Oil Strike Forces Cut In Flying

Air Force Slashes Training Runs To Save Gasoline

DENVER (AP)—The Air Force has issued orders slicing flying hours outside the Korean theater because of the strike of about 80,000 refinery and pipeline oil industry workers.

"Because of the strike in the petroleum industry," a two-sentence statement from the Air Force read, "the U. S. Air Force has issued orders curtailing flying activity.

"Due to Air Force stock levels, all flying outside the Korean theater is restricted to the minimum required to continue training, perform essential command missions and perform absolutely essential administrative flights."

Some commercial airlines reportedly had less than 30 hours supply of aviation gasoline on hand when the strike of 22 CIO AFL and independent unions began at midnight Tuesday.

A spokesman for the Air Transport Association said most lines are "moving heaven and earth" in efforts to build up and effectively ration out their supplies.

Included among the more than one-third of the nation's struck refineries are the big catalytic units that manufacture refined aviation fuel.

Plenty of Auto Gas, Says Govt.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is striving to stave off runs on filling stations as a result of the oil workers' strike.

While labor and management officials continue efforts to reach new wage contracts, federal officials are taking pains to calm public fears.

From nearly every quarter came statements emphasizing that reserve stocks of fuels are at record highs—sufficient, they say, to permit normal consumption for several weeks. The officials also point out that runs on filling stations not only would result in waste but would create fire hazards through unsafe storage of gasoline on private premises.

More Ohio Oil Refineries Closed

TOLEDO (AP)—Three refineries and five other oil installations in this area were closed down today by the strike of CIO oil workers.

The latest plant to be shut down in the nationwide dispute was the Standard Oil Company's refinery. Sohio officials ordered the closure last night after negotiations broke off and pickets were posted.

The other two refineries down are operated by Pure Oil Co. and Gulf Oil. In addition, a pipe line, a grease processing plant and three bulk distribution plants are closed.

Pre-School Clinics Set

Scheduled Here For Next Week

Pre-school clinics will be held next week in the city's grade schools.

Monday physicians and dentists will be at the following schools: Dr. R. L. Morgan, Dr. James S. Greetham, and Dr. W. Neil Price at Olney School; Dr. J. W. Bull, Dr. William H. Whitehead, and Dr. V. C. Kissell at Mark Street School.

One change has been made in Tuesday's schedule. The clinic for children who will attend Greenwood School will be held at the Central Christian Church instead of Greenwood School.

Senator Calls For Slash In Federal Taxes

Blasts Truman For Unlimited Expenditures

By GEORGE SCOTT

A fighting Sen. Robert A. Taft called for a slash in taxes and government spending as he spoke before several hundred Marion residents at the courthouse Friday afternoon.

The candidate for the Republican nomination for president blasted the Truman administration for "turning to unlimited spending as a solution to all problems."

Marion was one stop on his grinding campaign which has covered 40 states in the last six months. Smiling and in good humor throughout his two-hour stay here, he showed no effects of his strenuous schedule.

"We can reduce taxes and we can reduce government expenses," he said. "The recommendations of the Hoover Commission should be put into effect. We can further reduce domestic expenses by cutting personnel in government bureaus 15 per cent. I have never seen a government office yet where eight men couldn't do the work of 10, and more efficiently, too," he said.

Speaks At Luncheon

He arrived in Marion at noon to attend a luncheon of party leaders of the Eighth Congressional District at the Harding Hotel. After the meal, he spoke briefly. Then the entire party marched up W. Center St. to the courthouse.

As he walked to the speaker's platform, he took off his hat and the large crowd broke into a roaring ovation.

He opened his speech by decrying what he termed a "Me, Too" campaign. Republicans have tried it three times and each time it has failed, he said. He explained a "Me, Too" campaign as Republicans approving of present policies but saying they can carry them out better.

"Mr. Republican" called for "a return to the American principles which have made this country great."

He said even the man in the lowest income bracket pays 20 per cent of his income for taxes in one form or another.

Commenting on the government seizure of the steel mills, he said, "Under these new powers which the President claims to have, he can draft the steel workers and even seize newspapers and radio. And freedom of the press is that one great freedom which protects our other freedoms.

Seizure Will Hurt Workmen

"In the long run, the government seizure of the steel mills will hurt the workmen most. It is the workman who is suffering most under tight government control."

Speaking to the crowd, he said, "If the President has the power to seize steel mills, then he has the power to seize your property."

He urged a return to the "free enterprise system." He said, "We face today a theory that the government should dictate for the welfare of the people." He said because of the free enterprise system the American workman's standard of living is two and a half times that of the British

Talks to District Leaders

Taft Voices Belief He'll Get All Ohio Delegates

"I feel we can carry all delegates in Ohio," Sen. Taft told Republican party heads of the Eighth Congressional District Friday noon in a luncheon talk at Harding Hotel preceding his main address at the courthouse.

He said a clean sweep would have a great psychological effect in his race for delegates to attend the Republican presidential nominating convention in Chicago. A few districts are weak but he expects to carry those, he said.

At the luncheon he asked cooperation from party leaders in explaining the Ohio ballot and how it works.

Must Mark Each Name

Unlike some other states, it is necessary for the Ohio voter to mark each delegate's name, he explained. The delegates are listed in non-alphabetical order and are rotated on each ballot. To vote a full slate of delegates for Taft, a voter would have to find each candidate marked for Taft following the name and put an "X" in front of each. Each Republican voter in Marion County will have to vote for 10 delegates-at-large, 10 alternates-at-large, two district delegates, and two district alternates.

Before Taft's courthouse address Marion County Prosecuting Attorney Ralph E. Carhart introduced the district delegates pledged to Taft and district alternates.

They were district delegates Marion E. Hinklin of Marion and Edwin S. Naus of Upper Sandusky, and district alternates Willis Hakes of Fostoria and Gar Smith of Mt. Gilead.

On Luncheon Program

At the luncheon Sen. Taft was introduced by Mrs. Martha C. Wheatcraft of Galion, State Central Committeewoman from the Eighth District. The invocation was given by Dr. V. E. Busler, pastor of the Epworth Methodist Church.

Taft Travels Far In Drive for Votes

"I just keep going," Sen. Robert A. Taft said when he was asked how he keeps up the terrific pace of his campaigning for the Republican presidential nomination.

His campaign has covered 40 states in the last six months.

"I didn't think the campaign would be as strenuous as it is." He said it was as spirited as he could remember "at least, since 1912 when Theodore Roosevelt and my father campaigned."

Printers' Union To Mark 100th Anniversary

Celebration Set For Sunday; Marion Group To Attend

On Monday, May 5 printers throughout the United States will observe the 100th anniversary of the International Typographical Union.

Joining the celebration will be members of the local union, Marion Typographical Union No. 675.

Since Sunday, May 4, marks the final day of the first century of the existence of the International Typographical Union, Cincinnati, where the I.T.U. was born that many years ago, has planned a big celebration. The Cincinnati Union, as a host group, has planned a fitting observance to be held in the Sheraton-Gibson Hotel, beginning with a dinner at 1:30 p.m. served in the hotel Roof Garden.

Three members of the Marion Union are planning to be on hand for the event, David B. Metzger, president of the local union, Fred P. Haas, secretary and treasurer of the local organization, and Leonard Wilson, chairman of The Marion Star chapel. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Metzger and Mrs. Wilson.

Program Features

Included in the afternoon's program will be music, both voice and orchestra, an address by the president of the I.T.U., Woodruff Randolph, and a brief ceremony in which printers will acknowledge their debt to the past and pledge to preserve the heritage for the future. Marking each table will be a birthday cake.

Another major feature will be a comprehensive printing exhibit which will emphasize the part played by union printers in the past century, not only in the development of the printing industry but in the contribution which has been made to the general welfare.

In addition to the talk by President Randolph, speeches will be given by the mayor of Cincinnati and by the president of the Cincinnati Typographical Union Lester S. French. Other International officers, representatives of the 14 founding unions, and other Cincinnati city officials are to be present.

The whole affair is to be permanently recorded by movie reel and electrical transcription and then woven into a sound film.

First at Century Mark

Since the International Typographical Union is the oldest international union in America, this marks the first time a labor organization has celebrated a century of existence.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche has issued a proclamation designating the week of May 5 as Typographical Week in Ohio, urging that it be suitably and appropriately observed by all.

Going along with this, the mayor of Marion, Harold F. Robinson, has proclaimed next week as Typographical Week in this city. In the proclamation, he congratulates the International Typographical Union on its long and honorable service.

Preliminary to the forming of the I.T.U. in Cincinnati on May 5, 1852, a convention of journeyman printers from Typographical Societies in six states met in New York in 1850 to consider forming a national union. Then in 1851, delegates met in Baltimore, set up a committee to draft a constitution and by-laws for the proposed national printers' union "for the relief and benefit of the craft."

The formation was made in 1852 by adoption of this resolution: "The stipulations of the late national convention having been complied with, the National Typographical Union is hereby declared organized."

The union remained a national organization until in 1869 when the name was changed to International Typographical Union after affiliation of Canadian unions, paving the way for real friendship between Canada and the United States.

Today, the membership in the I.T.U. is approximately 100,000 journeymen and apprentices. There are about 845 local unions in the I.T.U., with Ohio alone having 44 local groups.

Marion Union's History

The Marion Typographical Union was organized on Sept. 8, 1910, by 11 charter members. They were Royal T. Boger, L. L. Allen, E. P. Cusic, C. C. Smallwood, George Tuttle, Frank M. Gibson, W. H. Murphy, F. E. Buckingham, George R. Snyder, W. E. Messenger and Elmer E. Blazer. Three of these men still are living, Mr. Cusic, Mr. Tuttle and Mr. Messenger.

Membership in the Marion Union today totals 38, one of whom is a

"Comet" Streaks Over Africa

Britain Makes History With Jet Airline Flight

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Britain's pride of the air, the sleek jetliner Comet, rolled to a stop here today just 23 hours and 38 minutes out of London, 6,-754 miles away. It was the world's first commercial jetliner flight.

The average speed thus was about 390 miles per hour.

Aboard was a full payload of 36 passengers, mail and baggage.

The Dolphin-bodied, blue and white airliner, her four jet engines whistling in the morning air, slipped into Entebb, 4437 air miles from London, "bang on time," BOAC reported proudly.

The Comet's scheduled time to Johannesburg lopped 6½ hours off the time of propelled airliners.

Officials of the state-owned British Overseas Airways, which ordered the Comet straight from the drawing boards, were proud as punch of their new baby.

They said the flight shows Britain has at least a four-year lead in commercial jet service over the United States and other nations.

Among the 36 passengers aboard was a composer, Miss Avril Coleridge-Taylor, trying to write a jet-age melody about her flight before she reached Johannesburg.

Spur Hunt for Pilot Lost on Lima Flight

LANTANA, Fla. (AP) — Air Force planes joined the search today for Virgil May, 55-year-old Civil Air Patrol lieutenant missing on a flight from Lima, O., to Lantana.

Lt. Bill Schoolcraft, CAP public information officer, said the air-sea rescue service at Selfridge Air Force Base, Mich., is working with the Ohio and Kentucky CAP in the hunt.

May, caretaker at the Gulfstream, polo grounds in Delray Beach, took off from Lima last Saturday in spite of warnings about bad weather and has not been heard from since. His wife has offered $1,000 reward to anyone locating him.

No Agreement On Allied Peace Plan

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The brevity of today's secret full dress Korean armistice negotiations led to speculaiton that the Communists have, in effect, rejected an Allied "package" proposal for solving a deadlock.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, United Nations command spokesman, said after the session it was obvious no agreement was reached on the U.N. overall solution.

Nuckols said the 24-minute meeting in Panmunjom was conducted in an atmosphere "coolly impersonal."

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, No. 1 Red negotiator, did most of the talking.

U. S. Planes Knock Down Four Reds

SEOUL (AP)—U. S. Sabre Jet pilots shot down four Communist jet planes and damaged a Red propellor-driven fighter in two sunset air battles over northwest Korea the U. S. Fifth Air Force said today.

The Jet scraps took place near the Yalu river, boundary between Korea and Manchuria, and produced America's 13th ace, Capt. Robert T. Latshaw Jr., Amarillo, Texas.

Correction

Edwin J Kinter, president of the new Service Corp. of America, Marion firm organized to operate clerical and tabulating bureaus under contract with the Department of Defense, is vice president of a sister corporation, Fulfillment Corp. of America, rather than president, as was erroneously reported in Friday's Star. Wendell B. Ward of Marion heads Fulfillment and also is executive vice president of the new company.

Westerville Firm Sued for Millions

COLUMBUS (AP) — A New Jersey munitions explosion that killed 27 persons has resulted in a damage suit involving millions of dollars.

The claim was filed Friday in Federal Court here by persons claiming damage from the May 19, 1950, explosion at South Amboy, N. J. The blast injured hundreds and caused damage estimated at the time at $36,000,000.

About 3,500 persons and firms each claiming more than $3,000 are listed in yesterday's giant claim. The judge will rule whether persons claiming less than $3,000 damage can enter the case against the Kilgore Manufacturing Co. of nearby Westerville.

That company is charged with negligence in handling anti-tank and anti-personel mines that exploded.

16 Colts Vie For $125,350 In Derby Run

Clear Weather Gives Fast Track For Kentucky Classic

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Sixteen three-year-old colts were set to run in the 78th Kentucky Derby today.

They were survivors of an original field of 167 once nominated for the mile-and-one quarter race worth $126,350.

A crowd estimated at 100,000 again was packed into Churchill Downs.

Millions of others also were to see the race: The Run for the Roses was being televised nationally for the first time. It was carried over 49 stations by CBS-TV and broadcast on radio by the same network.

Both the telecast and broadcast were scheduled for 4:15 p.m. to 4:45 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. Post time was set at 4:30 p.m. The weather man changed his earlier prediction of showers to fair and cooler.

Hill Gail Favored

Hill Gail remained the outstanding favorite. A second Calumet entry was scratched today. Trainer Ben Jones decided to withdraw Top Blend after placing him in the race only Friday. Race experts saw in the surprise entry a desire to have a horse other than Jones' own Hill Gail set the early pace. Top Blend showed a high turn of speed in winning a six-furlong dash here earlier this week.

Eddie Arcaro, seeking his fifth Derby triumph, was astride Hill Gail and the combination of Jones and Arcaro never has lost a race.

If any horse beats Hill Gail in the run for the $97,300 winner's share of the purse it figures to be Blue Man, owned by A. W. Abbott, ice cream manufacturer of Rye, N.Y. Blue Man will be ridden by Conn McCreary, who booted Count Turf to victory in the Derby last year.

The easterner, winner of the mile and one-sixteenth Experimental Handicap No. 2 at Jamaica, was rated second choice at 7 to 2.

Fire Causes $1,500 Damage

A defective flue was apparently the cause of a fire which burned from the basement up the side and through the roof of the Robert Moderwell home at 383 Davids St., Friday night. Damage was estimated by Fire Chief Owen Sifritt at close to $1,500, mostly to the house itself. Damage to the contents was slight, the chief said.

Firemen from the Central and W. Center St. stations were called to the scene at 9:27 p.m., and fought the flames about 50 minutes.

Another fire Friday occurred at 5:50 p.m. when a cigaret or match was apparently discarded in a vacant field on Route 4, north of the junction with Route 23. No damage resulted to the field, which is owned by Mrs. Fanny Ours of 678 E. Fairground St. Firemen from the E. Mark St. station answered the call.

DEBATE AID PROGRAM

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman's foreign aid program will become a top congressional subject next week, with legislators talking of cutting funds and adding certain "ifs" to the assistance that may be voted. The Senate will begin floor consideration Monday of a bill lopping one billion dollars from the President's request for $7,900,000,000 for the year ending June 30, 1953.

Due Monday If Agreement Isn't Readied

Truman Tells Aims In Talk to Industry And Union Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman told steel industry leaders today that the government is prepared to boost worker wages Monday unless the industry reaches agreement with the union before then.

The President disclosed the government's aims in a nine minute talk to union and industry leaders.

His remarks opened White House negotiations seeking a solution to the long pending labor dispute that has brought seizure of the industry and a bitter court fight.

"The government will be prepared on Monday morning, or as soon as we can get ready, to order changes in terms and conditions of employment to be put into effect," Truman said in opening the dramatic meeting.

A text of his remarks was made public by the White House an hour and 45 minutes after the meeting began.

Ask Guide Court Rule

About the time the President met with union and management leaders at the White House, the steel companies presented to the Supreme Court a new plea for quick final settlement of the seizure issue. Their memorandum, filed in connection with the government's appeal from a District Court injunction against the administration action, also asked for an order to stop the very pay raise Truman said was coming.

Truman said he didn't want to have the government fix terms and conditions of employment for the steel industry under government seizure.

"But we will have no choice if you can not agree," Truman said.

The Wage Stabilization Board has proposed for the industry an immediate pay raise of 12½ cents an hour with two boosts of 2½ cents each next January, plus "fringe" benefits amounting to some 8½ cents. The government was reported ready to go with the immediate 12½ cents and extra money or such things as paid holidays and shift differentials. Pay now is just under $2 an hour including overtime.

Truman told the group of eight steel industry executives and the CIO steelworkers delegation headed by union president Philip Murray that:

"In these meetings, you have the opportunity to settle this dispute as it should be settled. You can reach agreement if you have the will to do so."

Get Down To Earth, He Asks

He added:

"I am asking you, as the head of the greatest government in the world, to get down on earth and talk to each other and talk to each other without any ill feeling, and to get this thing done."

Expressions of hope came from all sides as the principals met at the White House.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, boss of the mills under government seizure, led off in the statements of qualified optimism that there might be a settlement:

"I hope so. I'm making no predictions."

Benjamin Fairless, president of U.S. Steel Corp., following the secretary into the White House, took about the same view:

"I always have hope. Hope is eternal."

Philip Murray, president of the CIO Steelworkers, made it unanimous:

"I don't have a thing to say except that I am hopeful."

All the participants were stern-faced as they entered the White House.

They went into session with Truman at 9:01 a.m., EST.

Aides At Conference

Besides President Truman, those representing the administration at the conference were Sawyer, Dr. John R. Steelman, assistant to the President and acting dedefense mobilization director; Charles Murphy, special counsel to the President, and David Stowe, administrative assistant to the President.

Eight steel officials and six officers of the union arrived for the conference but whether all en-

Christian Family Week Observance Opens Sunday

Christian Family Week opens Sunday and will continue through the following Sunday, concluding with observance of Mother's Day. "Brotherhood Begins at Home" is the theme for the week as planned by the National Council of Churches. Marion congregations will take part.

Wesley Methodist Church has announced beginning of its National Family Week observance for Sunday, with Festival of the Christian Home coming on Mother's Day when special rites will be held.

Sunday night at Calvary EUB Church, the start of Christian Family Week will be marked with a special service in charge of two women's groups.

General statements concerning the importance of this observance have been issued by the National Council of Churches.

Pointing out that "In our country a million homes are broken annually by death, desertion, or divorce, and the demands of the world crisis cause members of additional thousands to live separated from each other, and the pressure of living costs and housing impose servere strains on families," the Council of Churches lists these conditions as the cause for today's "frustrated, disillusioned or confused millions." Thus "many have ceased to hope for any fundamental brotherhood among men and have become reconciled instead to unbrotherly attitudes and behavior," the church leaders have said. The bright side of the situation is that "Written into the very soul of man is a longing which can be satisfied only in the family of God, and the churches of America must encourage and strengthen every home to achieve its noblest spiritual possibilities," it is maintained by the spokesmen.

The details of the Calvary service follow.

The spiritual life committees of the Women's Society of World Service and of the Christian Service Guild will present this worship service at 7 with the theme "Christian Family Worship." The sound film, "Bible on the Table," will be shown and a discussion of "Family Devotions" will be presented. A display of materials which would aid in family worship and family living will be set up. Mrs. Dwight Goff and Miss Neva Witthuhn will be in charge of the service. Special music will be by a trio composed of Mrs. Mildred Kuntz, Mrs. Alice Creasap and Mrs. Alberta Goff. Church families are urged to worship as a family unit at this service.

I Must Tell Jesus

A distraught woman inspires the writing of a consoling hymn

Burdened with seemingly unbearable sorrow, a despondent woman wrung her hands and repeatedly cried "What shall I do . . . what shall I do?" To which a sympathetic minister replied, "You can do nothing better than tell your sorrow to Jesus." Thus was the setting for the writing of one of the most popular of gospel hymns.

When Pennsylvania's Rev. Elisha A. Hoffman was not busy on sermons and hymns he was working among the poor and downcast. By standards of large churches, the Evangelical minister was not a great preacher. By standards of a useful life Elisha Hoffman was, like his father, a great minister. It was while serving a church at Lebanon, some 30 miles from the little town of Orwigsburg where he was born in 1839, that Hoffman experienced the touching scene that inspired the writing of one of the greatest of his more than 2,000 gospel hymns.

While visiting a parishoner's home where "God permitted many visitations of sorrow and affliction" the kindly minister found the woman of the house in the depths of despair. Hoffman prayed with the woman and, as he put it, "I quoted from the Word" such passages as "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest . . ." Still the woman frantically wrung her hands and repeated her cries, "What shall I do?" Finally the Rev. Hoffman suggested that she could do nothing better than "tell your sorrow to Jesus."

Relating the story, Elisha Hoffman said that as he left the home the woman "seemed absorbed with her thoughts . . . her eyes lighted up, and with animation she exclaimed, "Yes, I must tell Jesus!"

"Down at the Cross Where My Saviour Died"—"Leaning on the Everlasting Arms" and "Are You Washed in the Blood of the Lamb?" are but a few well known gospel hymns from the pen of Elisha Hoffman that have echoed across America for half a century. But it was the ringing words of a downcast woman that inspired the writing of one of his greatest. On his way home the phrase, "I Must Tell Jesus," kept running through Hoffman's mind. He went directly to his study and wrote both music and the words . . .

I must tell Jesus all of my trials;
I cannot bear these burdens alone;
In my distress He kindly will help me
He ever loves and cares for His own.

I must tell Jesus all of my troubles;
He is a kind, compassionate Friend;
If I but ask Him, He will deliver,
Make of my troubles quickly an end.

Tempted and tried I need a great Savior,
One who can help my burdens to bear;
I must tell Jesus, I must tell Jesus;
He all my cares and sorrows will share.

O how the world to evil allures me!
O how my heart is tempted to sin!
I must tell Jesus, and He will help me
Over the world the victory to win.

Chorus:
I must tell Jesus! I must tell Jesus!
I cannot bear my burdens alone;
I must tell Jesus! I must tell Jesus!
Jesus can help me, Jesus alone.

Irresponsibility

A Sermonette

BY THE REV. DON HOCHSTETTLER
Pastor of First Evangelical United Brethren Church

"Keep thy heart with all diligence, for out of it are the issues of life." —Proverbs 4:23

Of all the cults which have beckoned to mankind with appeals of "Satisfaction Guaranteed," none has been more enthusiastically received than the "Cult of Irresponsibility." Its adherents betray their membership by expressions, "I couldn't help it," "It wasn't my fault," "Just one of those things," or a dozen other ways they hope will maintain their position with friends and numb their own consciousness of personal responsibility.

Aaron, the brother of Moses, was not only high priest of Israel, but assumed the high priesthood of the cult of the irresponsible when he was called upon to explain the origin of the golden calf. Not willing to bring blame upon himself, he took refuge falsely in the most deluding and viscious of dishonesties, irresponsibility. "It just came out," he said, as if that should explain the whole vile affair.

WHATEVER else we must learn or re-learn from the story of Aaron is the crying demand for men to assume responsibility and to open our blinded eyes to the fact that nothing, be it good or evil, happens without a cause. That cause is to be found deeply imbedded in the soul-desires of man, individually and collectively. The golden calf did not just happen. It was formed.

The Chicago fire did not just burn, it was started; your life and mine do not just happen to turn out good or bad; they are made that way, for each life produces the fruit of what it is. Personally, socially and nationally the pattern is woven over the design conceived in the minds and hearts of individual men, and individual men, you and I, must assume the responsibility.

Aaron was an idolater, or at least willing to be, for what he did was the visible evidence of what he was. Before he did what he did, he had to be the kind of person who could do it. Bitter springs do not pour forth sweet waters, neither do men pick figs from thorns nor dates from briars. The dishonest clerk who steals is of a dishonest heart and in his heart was the deed first contrived. The man of profane lips expresses the profanity of his heart. The drunkard reeling down the alley is the reflection of the gluttonous and intemperate desire of the heart, for what we are, we do; what is within is reflected in that which we do without and, dodge as we may try, we yet remain responsible.

The life of the community, nation and the world are but the extended shadows of the heart desires of men. A nation which spends more on liquor than on education, more for crime than for hospitals, more for amusements than for charity, glaringly advertises the primary heart-interests which it has.

The figure carries into the life of the church and those who make up its membership. It remains the responsibility of the church, neglected or accepted though it is, to interpret the Divine Will as it relates to the moral and spiritual issues of daily living. It is the ask of its members to inject into society a faith and by their personal living, examples of that faith shall be the convincing evidence of the superiority and desirability of the plan of God. Refusal to do so inevitably results in the weakening influence of compromise and there emerges the "Calf" of an impotent and lifeless church. Whose fault? Yours and mine who, in an effort to avoid or shift responsibility and for the sake of a false peace or to avoid unpleasantness, smother our convictions and our lips are sealed with silence.

Therefore let us, as Christian men and women, who have found a false security in the cult of Irresponsibility, humbly and in penitence admit our personal guilt for that which has been produced of selfishness and evil as it reflects the wickedness of our hearts. Then being convicted, let us turn to an ever-forgiving God who can "Create in me a clean heart and renew a right spirit within me" and from which will issue a life, fruitful in good works.

Two Missionary Workers to Speak

Two missionary workers will be heard at First EUB Church Sunday.

At the morning worship, the Rev. O. W. French, recently returned from the missionary fields in India, will be the speaker. He is serving under the Oriental Missionary Society which is holding a convention in Marion over the weekend.

In the evening Miss Margaret Bratton, also of the Oriental Missionary Society, will give a message in the absence of the pastor. For Youth Fellowship at 6:30 p.m., Stan Ruggles will be leader.

Meetings for the week will include the Ladies Aid Society in the basement of the church Wednesday night. Monday night the annual congregational meeting will be held in the church basement. Friday night, the WSWS will sponsor the annual Mother-Daughter banquet. Mrs. Thelma Wilcox will be the speaker.

Confident Living

God Restores Heart To The Discouraged

By Norman Vincent Peale

I WAS AWAKENED one recent night by the strident and insistent ring of the telephone and emerged out of a sound sleep to answer a long distance call. Waiting for the operator to complete the connection, I looked out of my window and recalled that I had stood there for a moment before retiring, looking at a full moon sailing high in the cloudless sky.

Now there seemed to rest on the city an ineffable peace. Moonlight in silvery radiance fell across the room and I thought how beautiful the world can be. But out in that moon-drenched night, there were hearts full of trouble and, as my connection was completed, one of them reached in to me for what little help I could give.

Dr. Peale

It was the voice of an old friend, and I'm still amazed by our conversation. I knew him as a strong, self-sufficient individual. But now he was telling me: "Norman, I'm tired. I've never been so tired in all my life. I'm exhausted. I just can't seem to take it any more. The heart has absolutely gone out of me."

Then there was a break in the conversation and I thought we had lost our connection, when suddenly I became aware that, at the other end of the line, a man whom I had never known to cry was struggling with sobs.

I GAVE HIM what emergency treatment was possible over the telephone; bandaging up his wounds as best I could with my words and hoping that it would help him through the night and the next few days.

After he hung up, I sat there reflecting on how many times I had come across thoughts similar to this man's expressed in literature, especially Biblical literature. "My heart like wax melteth within me," came to mind, and then the line from the 73rd Psalm which says, "My flesh and my hearth faileth."

Then I also remembered the encouraging reminder of that same line from the Psalms, "But God is the strength of my heart."

IN THAT SIMPLE little story you have a whole cycle of human nature. The heart, the very essence and center of us fails, even as the flesh fails. We became tired and weary and disheartened, that is, without heart. But we have an answer, easy to find and ready at hand. God is the strength of our hearts. God restores our inner life, our vitality, courage and joy. God puts heart into us.

How is it done, you ask. How do the disheartened get new heart as a result of their faith in God?

First, they develop that wonderful thing I like to call a philosophy of difficulty. That is, a recognition of the fact that everbody gets his share of trouble and that he who meets it gallantly turns it to his strengthening. Thomas Paine said at Valley Forge, "Let us thank God for this crisis, for it gives us an opportunity to prove that we are men." A philosophy of difficulty teaches us that in making men of ourselves we find our own souls. God puts heart into people who receive suffering as having spiritual value.

SECONDLY, remember the emergency powers of the human brain. Within you is all the power you need successfully to meet any difficulty. God placed emergency power within you sufficient for any crisis. By prayer and faith you can call upon those powers and utilize them. You can draw from them the strength, ingenuity and intelligence you need to meet your problems.

Violinist To Be Guest Musician On Radio Program

Miss Elizabeth Johnson, violinist, will be the guest musician on the Central District, Ohio Federation of Music Clubs, radio broadcast Sunday at 3:45 p.m. over Station WMRN. This is a "Special Artist" program arranged as a feature of National Music Week which opens Sunday. Mrs. Lewis Wills is local chairman for the week and is the Central District radio chairman, in charge of the series of weekly broadcasts. Accompanying Miss Johnson will be Mrs. Harry T. Williams, a member of Lecture - Recital Club and organist at First Presbyterian Church.

Miss Johnson, a graduate of the Millikin University in Illinois and Eastman School of Music at Rochester, N. Y., has appeared in programs and radio broadcasts in several states both as a soloist and with instrumental ensembles. She will play 'Intermezzo," Provost, "Caprice Viennois," Kreisler, and "Ave Maria," Schubert.

Many places within the Arctic Circle sometimes have summer temperatures of 80 degrees Fahrenheit or over.

Christ" will be presented. This will deal with "learning how to appropriate Christ in every need." On the Bible Fellowship radio broadcast directed by the pastor, the Rev. Earl L. Holliday, over Station WHKC, Columbus, Sunday at 9:30 a.m., musicians will be Mrs. Mary Ellen White, Lois Roddy and Vern Griffith. Plans are being made for Vacation Bible School June 10-20 with the Rev. Charles Gray and Mrs. Gray as guest workers and a group of local members on the staff.

Organization of Calvary EUB Church meeting next week include the Mary Martha Class Tuesday night, and WSWS Thursday night. At the midweek service Wednesday night, the pastor will continue his talks on Christian fundamentals, with the topic "The Church—Part II." Plans are under way for honoring high school seniors of Calvary Church with a banquet at the Parish House at 6:30 p.m. May 13. Special recognition will be given each one graduating. Tickets are available now, it was announced.

Continuing a series of post-Easter sermons, the pastor of St. Paul's English Lutheran Church will discuss relationship of Christ's resurrection and the church at morning worship Sunday. The choir will sing "The Strife Is O'er," Vulpius.

Second Pilgrim Holiness Church will continue revival services next week with the Rev. R. W. Chatfield of Stroudsburg, Pa., as evangelist and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Chatfield of Columbus, O., as the musicians. Services are each night at 7:30 through May 11. The pastor is the Rev. Melroy Ward.

A May breakfast of the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church has been planned for 11 a.m. Wednesday in the church recreation room with a South American theme. "Youth and Missions," and a special guest of honor will be Miss Lucy Vargas of Peru who has lived the last year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mickley here. Miss Helen May will be in charge of the program, and hostesses will be members of Circles 5 and 6. There will be an executive board meeting at 9:30 in charge of Mrs. Clark Fouts.

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subeject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in The First Church of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday. It will have for the Golden Text: "Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?" (Romans 6:16).

Communion service will be held at morning worship of Fite Memorial Baptist Church Sunday. For Junior High Fellowship at 6:30 p.m., the theme will be "Growing in the Church." Midweek service topic Wednesday night will be "The Marks of the Holy Spirit." The Willing Workers Class will meet Monday night with Mrs. Frank Bailey as hostess. Tuesday at 6:30 p.m., the Men's Brotherhood will meet with Clarence Whitehill entertaining.

Brotherhood meeting of Wesley Methodist Church will be Monday night at the church with a guest speaker. Circle 1 will meet Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Electa Wilbert, entertaining, the official board will meet Tuesday night, and Thursday afternoon the WSCS will meet. An executive board - session will precede the women's meeting.

Theme of the First Church of the Brethren young people's meeting Sunday night will be "Israel's Missionary Call." At midweek service Wednesday night, the study will be the thirteenth chapter of Romans. Tuesday night, the Co-Workers Class will meet in the home of Willis Lamb. A meeting of the Gleaners Class will follow the prayer service Wednesday night at the church. The church softball team will play its first game of the season Monday at 8:45 p.m. Practice is being held each Thursday at 6:15 p.m. at the St. Mary's diamond.

YOUR HOME TODAY and TOMORROW

By Douglas Tuomey

Plywood Cold Frame Is Portable, Inexpensive

As all amateur gardeners know, standard cold frames made of concrete cannot be moved, and more often than not, the changes which gradually come to any country or suburban place frequently make the homeowner wish that he had not been so hasty in establishing the location

It is possible to make cold frames which are entirely satisfactory and which can be moved as often as desired, out of ordinary half-inch plywood To do this job properly, one must first cast around for the glazed sash which will make the covers or lids for the frame These may be storm sash or plain window sash of whatever size you wish They require no hardware other than handles for lifting them, and even these are not essential When the sash is on hand you know the size the frames must be

The frames themselves are simply open boxes made by cutting the plywood to the required square dimensions with the corners re-enforced with 2x2 or 2x4

corner blocks as illustrated When the plywood is securely nailed into the corner blocks you have substantial assemblies which can be moved about at will

One of the important things to attend to is the painting of the wood Two coats should be applied as the frames will be in the open, and setting on the ground as they do, dampness will attack unpainted wood The sash should be painted to match the frames.

There is nothing quite as necessary for the homeowner to have on hand as cold frames, if he goes in for any type of flower or plant raising The delicate seedlings are safe from wind, frost and rain in wood cold frames, and, best of all, the frames can be lifted and moved to sunny spots

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Placement of Laundry Tubs

Q.: I would like to have my laundry tubs in the basement The plumber has told us this is not a wise thing to do and it would entail a great deal of additional expense What must be done to install this plumbing?

A.: Evidently the tubs would have to be set below the level of the sewer line leading to the septic tank And, in order to drain tubs in this location, a sump pit and a sump pump will be necessary to get waste water into the sewer line

A Porch Roof

Q.: I plan to build a new house and want to know if I can have a porch that will not shut out the sunshine in the winter Would you suggest a glass roof that can be shaded with curtains in the summer, or a removal roof?

A: Corrugated glass has been used by many builders as a roof for a porch This type of work should be put into the hands of a competent builder who would take into consideration the weight of the glass as well as the amount of snow accumulation on the roof in order to build the proper framing There is now on the market a corrugated plastic that is made in a variety of colors and it is also suitable for use as a porch roofing material Your roofing contractor should be familiar with both of the materials mentioned above.

Woodwork Painted White

Q We purchased a new home and I asked the builder for a natural finish on the woodwork The painters made a mistake and applied a prime coat of white I do not want a white finish Is there any way I can have my woodwork stained or in some way made to look natural?

A.: The only procedure is to remove the paint down to the bare wood and refinish as desired Stain cannot be applied over painted surfaces

Rusty Stain in Wash Basin

Q. Upon our return from a vacation I found water dripping from the wash basin faucet leaving a rusty mark How can I remove it?

A.: Try removing as much of the discoloration as possible by rubbing the stained surface with a fine scratchless scouring powder The remainder of the stain might come off by wiping with Javelle water, followed immediately by a rinsing with clear water Or you can fill the basin with water and then add Javelle water in the proportions of two tablespoonfuls to each gallon of water Allow to remain overnight Then rinse with clear water

ON THE HOUSE

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER, AP Real Estate Editor

(Last in a series on Finishing Basements)

FINISHING A BASEMENT is one of the most satisfying home improvement projects from any way you look at it.

Look at it from the angle of getting more out of your houre: It adds space you didn't realize you had. As an investment: It can add more the the value of your house than the work costs. As a property improvement: When done properly, it prolongs the life of the house by eliminating dampness. As an economy: You can gear it nicely to the family budget, finishing the job as simply or elaborately as you prefer or can afford.

Merely clearing a cluttered cellar of accumulated junk, building a few shelves and cabinets for orderly storage and painting walls and floor of a dry basement in bright colors accomplishes much. White, yellow, pink or light green walls increase the light in the darkest corners. A good grade of deck enamel on the floor in light gray, red or buff, in suitable contrast to the wall color, carries out the cheerful aspect and gives the concrete a smooth finish that will prevent dusting.

PAINTING A BASEMENT is so easy you might as well do it right so the job will last. If your house is new, wait at least a year for the lime and salts to work out of the concrete before attempting to paint. Special paints not affected by lime are available for basement walls and can be applied with no more preparation than cleaning loose particles off the walls. Cold water paints also can be used. However, if you want a gloss or semi-gloss finish, oil paint or enamel is called for.

A stiff wire brush and a carborundum stone will usually smooth the average poured concrete wall sufficiently for painting. If the wall is still too rough to suit you, a coat of portland cement plaster can be troweled on.

For oil paints, walls should be washed with muriatic (hydrochloic) acid solution — about a pint of acid to a gallon of water —then thoroughly rinsed with clear water and allowed to dry. Wear rubber gloves and protect your eyes.

Or you can neutralize the lime by soaking the concrete with a solution of zinc sulphate crystals —three pounds to a gallon of water. This is allowed to dry on the walls for several days, then the crystals are brushed off.

A good sealer is important for the first coat. Frequently varnish is mixed with the paint to provide a sealer. One or two finishing coats can then be applied.

A CELLAR CEILING has many advantages. It conceals the maze of joists, bridging, pipes, ducts and wires. It increases heating effeciency by preventing drafts up through floors and walls. It provides a certain amount of fire protection, often delaying the spread of fire enough to allow time to fight it.

A ceiling can be as simple as you care to make it. Ordinary paper composition wall board will suffice, or thin sheets of wood fiber hardboard, such as Masonite, can be sawed to fit and nailed to the joists. Gypsum wallboard will increase fire resistance and add soundproofing. Or if you want a more expensive job, metal lath and gypsum plaster can be applied.

WOOD PANELED or wallpapered walls usually can be provided more easily by building false walls in front of concrete than by installing furring strips. A false wall will allow for ventilating space behind it and make it easier to combat dampness from condensation. Leaving a slot open at top and bottom will allow for air circulation behind the false wall, all members of which should be sealed for protection against moisture from the back.

While 1 by 2 or 2 by 2 lumber will suffice for furring strips secured to a masonry wall by expansion bolts or screws driven into fiber or lead anchors inserted in holes drilled in the foundation, false walls and partitions are best built of 2 by 3 framing. This formed with a 2 by 3 sole on the floor, another for a plate along the top and 2 by 3s for studs spaced 16 inches on centers—that is, about 14 inches apart.

Since wallboards, either fiber hardboards or gypsum, run 4 by 8 feet, and should be supported against bulging, it is simpler to frame 16 inches on centers. This allows nailing space for two panels on a stud where panels meet.

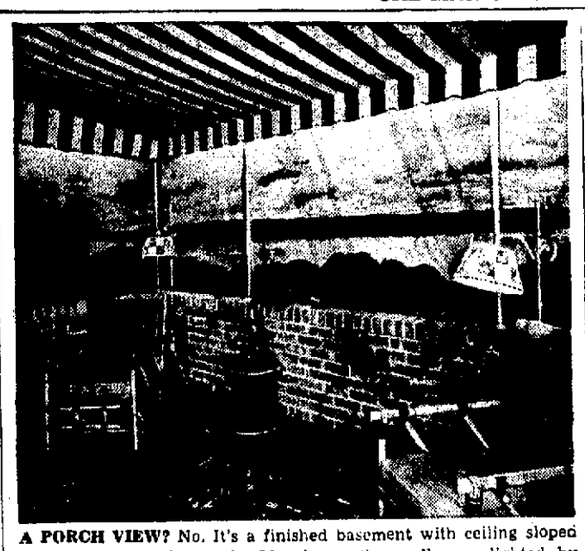
A LUXURIOUS WALL can be created with the various hardwood veneers, which are plywood surfaced with choice grain rare woods. Or simple knotty pine, or pecky cypress boards with beveled edges can be obtained from any lumber dealer.

Joints between panels of wallboard can be concealed with tape for painting or wallpapering. They can be left exposed as V-joints when using bevelled hardboard of veneers. Or they can be covered with batten strips, metal moldings and other decorative details.

Full instructions on the handling of pjoints are issued by the various manufacturers of wallboards and usually are available at lumber dealers.



A PORCH VIEW? No. It's a finished basement with ceiling sloped and painted awning style. Murals on the walls are lighted by concealed cove illumination. Brick parapet provides shelf for ivy plants. Floor is asphalt tile.

ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—Joe Childress comes up to his final season in high school track with a most amazing record—and he's rather doubtful that he can surpass it. Joe has been running since he was in the fifth grade and has lost only three races. Twice he has been state champion in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. His best time in the 100 was 9.6 and in the 220 it was 21.1.

Film on Korea To Be Shown

A motion picture filmed in Korea, "38th Parallel," will be shown in Marion Sunday night at Oakland EUB Church at Bellefontaine Ave. and Henry St. This sound production, photographed by Dr. Bob Pierce, missionary an accredited United Nations war correspondent, shows besides war scenes the life and customs of the people, and one of the largest religious meetings ever held in Korea.

The Rev. Charles L. Shook of Mansfield, Ohio, representative of World Vision, Inc., will present the film here. A freewill offering will be taken. This will be used for Christian relief and aid in Korea and the Orient through the missionary organization, World Vision, Inc., with headquarters at Portland, Ore., of which Dr. Pierce is president.

Prior to the outbreak of the fighting in Korea, Dr. Pierce, the Rev. Gil Dodds and the Rev. Bob Finley conducted more than 300 evangelistic meetings there with crowds of many thousands. High government and military officials were interviewed, and hospitals, missions and churches seen. Later, thousands of prisoners of war were visited. A sequel to "38th Parallel" will be "The Flame," a documented color and, sound film made by Dr. Pierce who has just completed his third Korean tour.

Water pressure increases at the rate of 15 pounds per square inch for every 33½ feet of depth.

The custom of sealing a living human being in the cornerstone of buildings did not die out until the 15th Century.

Nothing Moot About It

ALL legal mumbo-jumbo to one side, there is nothing "moot" about the question of any U.S. President's right to seize private property illegally, no matter if the steel dispute is settled or not.

It might be convenient for the Supreme Court to drop the hot potato handed to it by Federal Judge David A. Pine. It might even be good politics. Undoubtedly it would eliminate some work no one wants to tackle just before time for summer vacation.

But whatever reasons might be thought up by the Supreme Court for dodging the issue, the American people should be reassured once and for all that nothing has happened to their Constitution to give despotism a foothold after 165 years.

A suspicion that someone may be planning it that way has been growing since Franklin D. Roosevelt began to run the country by executive orders. The suspicion came to maturity when Harry Truman shrugged off a law he did not like (Taft-Hartley Act), let the steel industry drift into a strike crisis, then seized steel properties to appease the union.

There is no law to keep the Supreme Court from ruling on a moot question, which is what the lawyers would call the issue of seizure if a steel settlement were reached.

The people have a right to know whether or not—a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evidence a design to reduce them under absolute despotism. If so, "It is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security."—Declaration of Independence.

May Rush

EVERYBODY gives a passing thought at Christmas-time to the harassed clerks in department stores. But in Maytime, scarcely a thought is spared.

The May rush is a phenomenon apart—a mass speed-up, in conflict with the inertia of spring fever. Everything needs doing at once—screens, lawn-mowing, digging, weeding, leveling, planting, uprooting and luxuriating.

In the space of a few weeks, a seed store is called on to answer the varied demands of those who want to plant something, those who want to kill something they didn't plant and those who want to stimulate something they did plant which isn't doing too well.

Parallel with the urge to fix up the outdoors over a warm week end in May is the urge—rather the command—to get busy indoors with sponges, wallpaper cleaner and paint brushes. The May rush overflows from the seed stores into the paint stores, hardware stores, wallpaper stores and, eventually, the drug stores—for balms and sedatives. They represent the penalty for trying to do too much at once, just as the January doldrums balance accounts for overdoing at holiday time in December.

You the People

EARLY in this century when Americans revolted against politicians and demanded the right to name their own candidates for election, Ohioans were among the leaders.

The direct primary laws they developed have been held up as a model. But the model is not a working model.

Its shortcomings are as familiar as soap and water to Ohio voters, including some voters who remember the bright dreams of reform.

Or it might better be said that the shortcomings of human beings as reflected in the operation of the direct primary are as familiar as soap and water.

Chances are you have not given two consecutive thoughts to anything about your political party since last November. Chances are you know nothing about the people who run the party organization.

You probably do not know more than a few of the candidates for nomination. You probably are not well informed about the few whose names you can recognize.

You do not understand why Democrats will be asked to go through the motions of voting for Robert J. Bulkley to be the Democratic presidential nominee; you know that Mr. Bulkley is not a candidate for the job. If you are a Republican, you will be puzzled by the inside play which has Harold E. Stassen running for a nomination he cannot get. What do things like these mean?

They mean that politicians have taken over the primary and are running things to suit themselves because ordinary people simply do not have the time and interest to play the political game.

Ohio's model primary has been turned into a farce by an unfailing tendency of human nature—to make nobody's business out of what has been proclaimed as everybody's business.

The curse of partisan politics is popular indifference. If voters would keep track of what was going on in their name, a convention system or a direct primary would work equally well. Without popular interest, neither can begin to do what it was supposed to do when first proposed.

World Showdown Near?

By David Lawrence

U.S.-Russia Sparring Warms Up

WASHINGTON

AN INTERNATIONAL game of bluff and counter-bluff is going on between the United States and Russia which might easily lead to a showdown in world affairs.

The United States, at the direction of President Truman, has served what is being loosely described in official quarters as a kind of ultimatum to the Communists—they must do something definite about the peace parleys, or the war in Korea will be resumed on an intensive scale. Whether such a threat is actually in the communication, or whether it is there to be inferred, there is no doubt that within the last 48 hours matters have reached a decisive point.

The attack by a Soviet fighter plane in Germany on a French passenger plane was unquestionably intended to warn the United States that, if it took stern measures in Korea, there would be reprisals in Europe.

The Korean negotiations have come to a point of conclusiveness not reached in the last 10 months. The United Nations commander has served notice that the talking is over and that the time has come to make agreements or reject them finally. This could mean a resumption of the war in Korea, and it could lead to naval blockade of China as well as the bombing of bases in Manchuria.

Whatever inferences the Communists may have drawn from the serious attitude being displayed by the United Nations negotiators, the probabilities are that Soviet Russia is inclined to use a counter-threat in Europe. The attack on an unarmed passenger plane on a regular flight over a hitherto approved zone may mean that Russia has decided to start haggling about the corridor to Berlin and begin another series of harassing tactics such as the "Berlin blockade."

THE COMMUNISTS might argue that they need no longer respect agreements in and around Berlin which grew out of the armistice that ended World War II if the United Nations countries are going to ignore Communist protests about the peace treaty just consummated with Japan. It will be noted that Russia sent a vigorous protest to the United States about the dissolution of the Far Eastern commission which had on it a Soviet member.

The Moscow regime doesn't like being left out on the Japanese situation. When the various powers, including the United States, signed a treaty with Japan and let the Russian objections float into the discard, the Communists were bound to show their teeth in some way. The attack on the unarmed plane in Europe could be one way of making that point.

The Allied powers in western Europe can not agree to the abandonment of the air corridor that leads to Berlin because the Communists could immediately impose another ban on road and rail traffic and isolate American forces in Berlin by depriving them of all communications. So the natural sequel would be the sending of fighter and bomber planes to escort passenger planes and transports that carry supplies. Then, if the Russians attacked our military planes, fighting in Europe—in the nature perhaps of a local war such as has been going on in Korea — might ensue. Out of such a situation almost anything could come, including large-scale war.

THERE IS AN ASPECT, however, that could mean peace. If the Russians learn that the Allies really mean business and will not be bluffed in either Korea or Europe, the Moscow government may adopt a conciliatory course. But where the Russians suspect that every aggressive move on their part will be answered merely with a note or further parleying, they are bound to take advantage of the bluffing game. That's why the developments in the Korean truce negotiations and the attack on the unarmed plane in Europe are unquestionably related to each other.

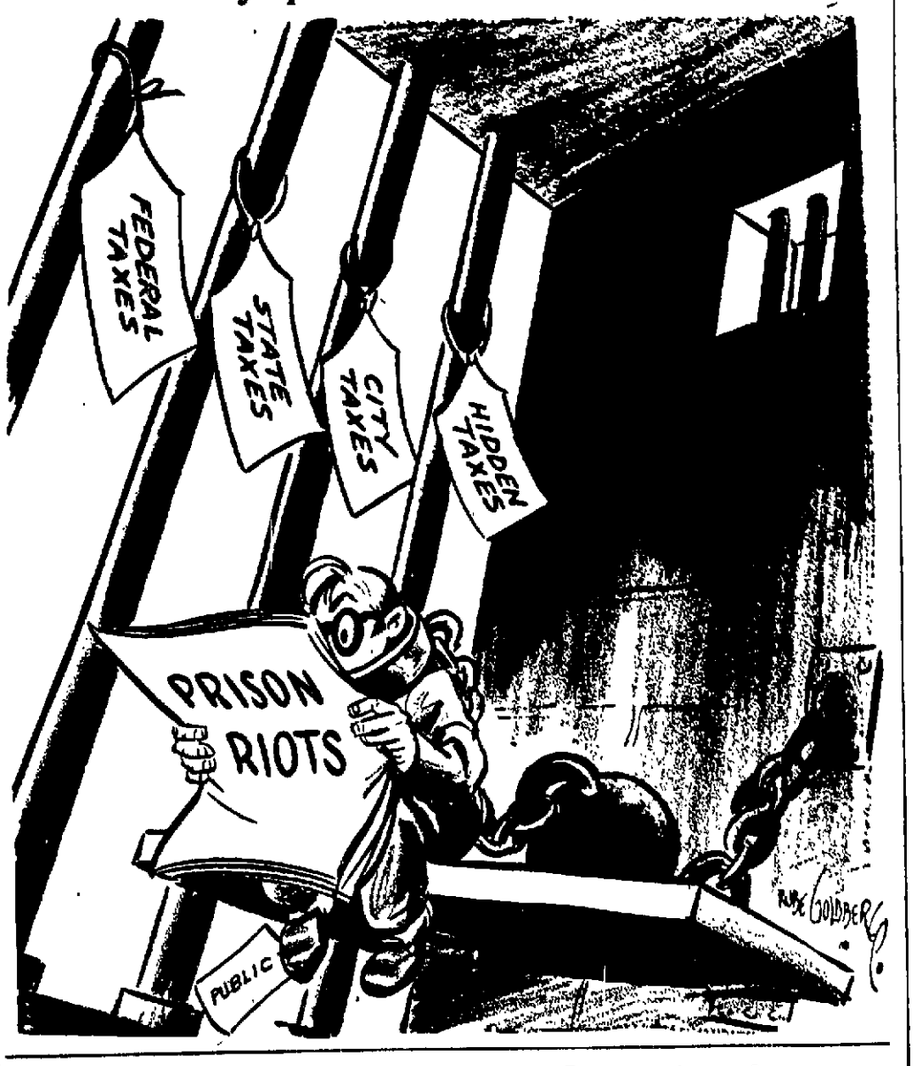
Sympathetic Understanding



Security Under The Constitution

By George E. Sokolsky

THROUGHOUT THE history of our country, the Constitution has stood as a bulwark against tyranny, anarchy and confusion. In war or peace, in good times and bad, the Constitution has established the immutable fact that this is a government of law, not of men.

This remarkable fact of our history explains the continuity of government for 163 years, with only one rebellion to challenge the existence of an indivisible nation. As Federal District Judge David A. Pine has so clearly stated in the Steel Seizure Case, the United States of America came into existence upon the adoption of the Constitution, which is a contract among the states; in effect, it is a contract among the peoples of the states.

The Constitution can be amended by legal means; it may not be violated by whim or by obiter dicta. And the essence of the Constitution is that powers are derived from it and from no other source. The decision of Judge Pine in the Steel Seizure Case, like the decision of the Supreme Court in the Sick Chicken Case abolishing the NRA, makes it clear beyond cavil that neither the Congress nor the President nor the judiciary are free to go their merry way, to bend the functions of government to their will or to the necessities of a particular occasion. They, like the rest of us, must obey the law, and the law is the Constitution.

ONE OF THE MOST significant paragraphs in Judge Pine's decision is his denunciation of the doctrine that a wrong act, once permitted to stand, becomes a precedent for a continuation and perpetuation of wrong acts. To hold otherwise would be to condone murder because some murders go unpunished.

Ours is a system of a written Constitution, of laws passed by Congress, approved by the President and upheld as to their constitutionality by the courts. No provision is made in the Constitution for government by precedent. Of all this, Judge Pine wrote in the Steel Seizure Case decision:

"He (the lawyer for the government) next refers to seizures by former Presidents, some during war and several shortly preceding a war, without the authority of statute, but it is difficult to follow his argument that several prior acts apparently unauthorized by law, but never questioned in the courts, by repetition clothe a later unauthorized act with the cloak of legality. Apparently, according to his theory, several repetitive, unchallenged, illegal acts sanctify those committed thereafter. I disagree."

WHAT IS UNAUTHORIZED by law cannot therefore become law by Presidential fiat and by precedent. The law must be established by due process, and violation of the law does not justify itself because the violation is unchallenged.

For 20 years now, the President, using economic distress and war as explanations, has expanded the powers and authorities of office beyond the clear intent of the Constitution. Three concepts entered into this:

1. That the Preamble to the Constitution is part of that document and not an introductory paragraph thereto. Out of this concept arose the use of the single word, welfare, to expand presidential powers beyond the clear meaning of Article II of the Constitution. This interpretation of the Preamble violated Amendment 10 of the Constitution and the decisions relating to it; yet, because challenges were not always made, the "welfare state" developed under this assumption;

2. That the President possesses "inherent powers," not specified in the Constitution but arising from the nature of the office. This concept is alien to the United States, because it recognizes the "leadership principle" upon which Hitler founded the Nazi state in Germany. In the United States, the "leadership principle" has never been recognized by law and therefore cannot exist. Judge Pine made the American view on this subject clear when he said:

"That is defendant's only support for his position and for his 'stewardship' theory of the office of President, but with all due deference and respect for that great President of the United States, I am obliged to say that his statements do not comport with our recognized theory of government, but with a theory with which our government of laws and not of men is constantly at war;"

3. That the President possesses "unlimited powers, which is utterly fantastic in the nature of checks and balances in our system of government designed to avert tyranny.

It is doubtful that any court could hold differently without invalidating the Constitution.

Super-Everything

By TRUMAN TWILL

MOMENTOUS THINGS are afoot in that part of the world which lies within the reach but beyond the understanding of the human mind.

Microbes which yielded without a whimper to man's first deadly onslaughts with scientific killers are growing hair on their chests and making muscles at their antagonists.

Insects which rolled over on their backs and died lipmly when first sprayed with death-dealing substances now are giving the same substances a contemptuous stare and going about their business, nuskier and more insolent than ever.

Weeds which managed to survive the initial barrages of powders and sprays are bigger and tougher than the weaklings which folded up. The law of survival is working in their favor.

Even in the animal kingdom's domestic sectors, where men theoretically have all the answers, it is beginning to be obvious that the human mind has outwitted itself.

It is in imminent danger of doing what the Australians did when they imported rabbits and failed to foresee what would happen when the rabbits outnumbered the people. In the case of starlings alone, it is evident that human beings do not know what to do about them, whereas the starlings are serenely confident of their ability to take care of the groundlings.

IN MILLIONS of households, the accumulation of prerogatives by dogs is going forward day by day. It long since has ceased to be a joking matter that these shrewd, upscrupulous animals have carved a wider margin of security and comfort for themselves than the human beings who are their slaves and providers.

No more than a simple case of indigestion is required to produce a nightmare in which the human race is fighting for the barest terms of survival against a mighty alliance of super microbes, molds, insects, vegetables and animals.

Men have monkeyed and meddled unwisely with precarious balance of nature too complex for human understanding. The human mind was carried away by its own enthusiasm when it figured out how to exert influence; it has given no attention to whether or not it can rely on itself to exert influence wisely.

Deadly sprays to kill bugs knocked off the weaker ones, while the stronger ones developed immunity. Inadvertently, some of the same substances killed other forms of animal life which had been doing no harm. Science figures out how to make the lower animals bigger and better but seems little disposed to make human beings bigger and better at the same time.

This nightmare in which the terms of survival have been jumbled by the reckless exercise of human ingenuity does not even need indigestion to induce it. A look at things as they are is sufficient. If foolish men produce super-everything without producing supermen, it may be a race between the elephants and the cockroaches to see which one takes over the world.

Congressmen Who Pray

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON

SINCE 1943 some members of Congress have gathered quietly at weekly prayer meeting breakfasts at the capitol to ponder "ways and means of living amid the world's problems in a manner acceptable to God."

Though they shun publicity in what they describe as a purely personal matter, it is known that about 35 senators meet once a week in the Vandenberg room, across the hall from the regular Senate dining room, and more than 60 members of the House in the same room on another morning. The senators' group was formed under the leadership of Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis). The House group was organized by Rep. Ralph Gwin (D-NY).

The idea for prayer meeting clubs started in 1935 in Seattle, Wash., and has snowballed throughout the U. S. as well as Australia, Canada, France, Germany, Great Britain, Greece, Holland, Italy, the Philippines and Switzerland. In the Capital there are now 12 such clubs. In addition to members of Congress they claim high-ranking individuals in the city's business and professional circles. Some of these men have formed luncheon or fireside prayer meeting clubs.

The groups function under International Christian Leadership, Inc., which is interdenominational. E. M. Cabaniss, New York and New Jersey industrialist, is president of the American branch of the organization. Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) is chairman of the international council. Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) and Rep. Hays (D-Ark) are vice chairmen.

Donald C. Stone of the Mutual Security Administration, is a member of the executive committee of the local group. Others active are Senators Robertson (D-Va), Dworshak (R-Idaho) and Carlson (R-Kans), Rep. Armstrong (R-Mo) and Rep. Bennett (D-Fla) as well as Dr. Ernest S. Griffith, director of the Legislative Reference Service of the Library of Congress.

Princess Wilhelmina of the Netherlands, mother of Queen Juliana, is honorary chairman of the international council. Abraham Vereide, who came to this country in 1905 from Norway, was graduated from Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill., and was a minister for some years, is international director.

School "Lost" in Snow

HESPERUS, Colo. (AP)—Winter is over but they're still talking about the "lost schoolhouse" in these parts.

Wade C. Folsom, a teacher at Mayday School, was trudging down the road to school in the La Plata Mountains several weeks back. Last night's snow had been plowed up into 12-foot-high banks. The path leading to the schoolhouse was gone.

After going a couple of miles out of his way he finally spotted a familiar landmark in the snow—the tip of the school flagpole.

Stagecoach Models

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Once a Texas Panhandle cowpoke, William E. Jeffreys, 62, has spent the last six years building models of wagons and stagecoaches used when he was a youth.

"Recently," said Jeffreys, "I looked at the wagons and decided something was missing—it was the horses."

So now he's making miniature animals to go along with his models. Jeffreys' first miniature was of the chuck wagon he "followed on the XIT ranch back in 1908."

Museum Gets Support

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The newly formed contributing membership society of the City Art Museum has made an initial donation of $10,000 to help build up the museum's art collection.

Ten persons each gave $1,000 for life memberships. Up to this time the institution had been the only major art museum in the country which operated without the support of private membership.

The Once Over

Under a spreading chestnut tree
The village smithy stands;
The smith a mighty man is he
With large and sinewy hands
(But he has to have a legal staff
To know just where he stands)!

II

His hair is thin and going fast,
His face is drawn and pale
From talks with mediation boards,
Whose visits never fail
When he gets into a hassle with
The help about the scale.

III

Week in, week out, from morn till night
You can hear his bellows blow,
But they aren't being blown by him,
For the shop's been seized, you know
By a government which is rather quick
When the smith is somewhat slow.

IV

And lawyers going to and fro
Look in at the open door
To see the experts gathered there
With bureau chiefs galore,
And catch the arguments that fly
Like chaff from a threshing floor.

V

He goes on Monday to the court
And goes on Tuesday, too;
Each Wednesday sees him sitting there
And he sits all Thursday through;
The smith he stays all weekend for
There's little else to do.

VI

Waiting, discussing, worrying,
Onward through life he goes;
Each morning sees a new brief filed,
Each night his law bill grows;
From court to court he struggles on
Through dreary legal prose.

VII

It sounds to him like a record scratched
And it leaves him all at sea,
But a patient guy the blacksmith is,
As a good smith has to be;
If Judge Pine is not supported
THEY MIGHT SEIZE THE CHESTNUT TREE.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON

A STRICTLY SECRET report prepared by President Truman's defense mobilizers for the Pentagon was ignored by the White House itself when Mr. Truman seized the steel industry after warning the nation that a steel strike would delay our atomic energy program and slash our air force.

That just isn't true, this report reveals.

Drawn up by the defense mobilizers' keenest experts, it reveals that there is no basic shortage of steel, that therefore there is no steel emergency, and that there hasn't been one for months.

Not even a month long steel strike would affect production of more than isolated types of munitions, the report indicates. In a real emergency this nation could struggle through two months of cold steel furnaces before actually affecting the supplies of our Korean forces. There is that much steel available.

There was no emergency when Mr. Truman's aide, Charles Murphy, certainly no labor expert, wrote the President's famed seizure speech.

IT IS FAIRLY CERTAIN that the CIO's steel leaders have not seen this report. But there is no doubt that the wearied Philip Murray and his counsel, Arthur Goldberg, were aware, when they decided to call a strike over the long distance Cleveland - to - Washington telephone Tuesday afternoon, that they would not immediately slash war production.

Furthermore, they knew that down in the mills the 650,000 makers of raw steel knew there were surpluses.

In all fairness is must be reported that they called that strike swiftly to prevent the men down in the mills from wildcatting all over the country, damaging millions of dollars worth of suddenly cooled coke ovens, open hearths and blast furnaces.

It is accurate to reveal that in his telephone conversation with his counsel, Mr. Murray said he believed there would be spontaneous walkouts throughout the steel industry. The mills would be shut. There would be no standby crews to handle and protect property. There would be angry knots of men, not orderly picketing.

Virtually unknown to the nation, there had been eight serious wildcat strikes in the week leading up to Justice Pine's decision. Murray and Goldberg had settled those for Secretary of Commerce Sawyer.

The men had been held for 120 days. Murray had promised Mr. Truman he'd do that. That's what the President had asked late in December, saying to Murray over the telephone that the White House would not invoke the Taft-Hartley Law if the CIO chief would postpone the strike 100 days or so. Both men kept their bargain.

But by last Tuesday afternoon the government had been running the steel industry for three weeks. From the hundreds of regional steel union leaders down below word came that the men were restless. If there was going to be a stoppage, Murray felt he had to control and lead it. He called the strike, telephoned his Pittsburgh headquarters and warned his people to keep order.

There was no doubt that the veteran steel leader, a patriarch to all his people and to hundreds of thousands of coal diggers, too, knew his men. At the U. S. Steel Company's Clairton plant excited steel workers mobbed a local union official who they believed did not spread the strike order fast enough. Plant police had to rescue the men's own leader. In Pittsburgh, the union's national headquarters, high in the dust-bitten Golden Triangle's Commonwealth Building, ordered sound trucks into mill streets warning the husky steel men to keep order.

AND ALTHOUGH Mr. Truman swore at his aides when they told him Murray had called a steel strike—putting him on the spot—all this meant no break between CIO and the Administration.

The President had worked closely with the steel union leaders. He had, in fact, bent to their every criticism. When Charles Wilson, on flying in from the winter White House in Key West, had said that Mr. Truman had given him permission to set wages and increase prices to make a swift deal and avert a strike—even if it meant handing CIO a smaller wage increase than the Wage Stabilization Board had recommended — it was CIO's counsel, Art Goldberg, who got Charles Murphy on the long distance phone and objected on behalf of 1,000,000 steel workers.

Murphy went to Mr. Truman and Mr. Truman, in effect, doubled back on Wilson who then quit.

The president of CIO has not walked out on the President of the U. S. Nor has he crosed him. Mr. Murray just decided the good old-fashioned way was the best. There is no emergency. So he struck.

Mt. Gilead Groups Plan Junior-Senior Prom Night Fun

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD—Plans are being made for a Junior-Senior party and breakfast for the Mt. Gilead High School Juniors and Seniors after their annual banquet May 16.

The affair will be sponsored jointly by Mt. Gilead organizations including the Lions Club, American Legion, American Legion Auxiliary, PTA, Chamber of Commerce and all other organizations interested and that will participate in this project to furnish entertainment for the high school youth in Mt. Gilead. The above groups hope to give the young people of the Mt. Gilead High School the entertainment that will keep them in Mt. Gilead.

Representatives of the above mentioned organizations have held two meetings. Those present and representing their respective groups were: Chamber of Commerce, Bernard Dobbins and Harry Thomas; Lions Club, Kenneth Rexford; Kiwanis Club, Lloyd Cover and Charles Lawrence; PTA, Mrs. Tollie Rinehart; the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Don Bachelder Sr.; the American Legion, Lloyd Potter; the Senior class, Pete Cooper; the Junior class, Wolfred Keil; the Mt. Gilead High School, O. H. Farrar and advisor DeWitt Nicholson and Richard Behrend.

A tentative program for the evening includes the following: banquet and program at the school auditorium, dancing at the school, movie at the theater, house parties at private homes, the Legion and K of P halls, and a breakfast. At recent meetings of the Junior and Senior classes 90 per cent of their members voted in favor of local entertainment.

Bernard Dobbins, manager of the local theater and representing the Chamber of Commerce was elected chairman of the committee and Lloyd Potter, was appointed to handle the publicity for the affair. A third meeting of the group was held Wednesday afternoon of this week at the school house.

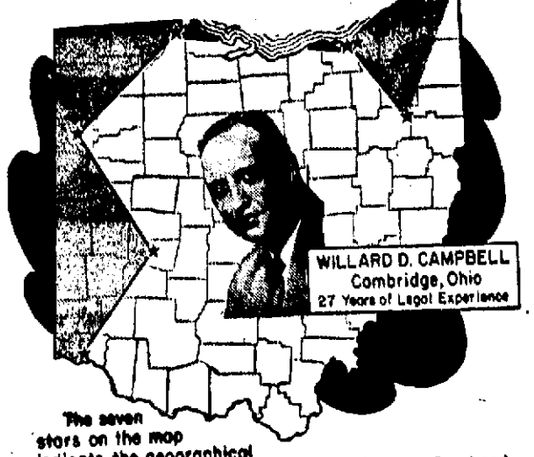
WILLARD D. CAMPBELL
FOR JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT



The seven stars on the map indicate the geographical distribution of the membership of the Supreme Court and the section of the state from which each member was originally elected.
All sections of Ohio should be represented on the Supreme Court inasmuch as it has the constitutional right to determine what cases it will consider as being of a "public or great general interest," and renders final judicial decisions on legal controversies originating in all parts of the state.
Equalize representation on the court by voting for Judge Willard D. Campbell, a resident of southeastern Ohio, who has rendered public service to township, county, district and state in the executive, judicial, and legislative branches of our government.

Public Invited To View Displays

"Book Fair" to Open Publishers' Library for Schools Here Monday

In an effort to build up supplementary reading materials in the Marion city schools, a publishers' library has been set up in the Marion City Schools Administration Building, 445 S. Prospect St.

Invitations to 250 teachers, PTA representatives, and members of civic organizations have been sent to visit the "Book Fair" Monday the opening of the publishers' library, from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Some 400 books representing the latest publications for supplementary reading material for the grades one through six will be displayed on tables according to grade levels. Textbooks, workbooks and story books of all types are included. The collection is valued at about $1,000.

Purpose Explained

The publishers' library was set up with the purpose of offering teachers, parents and community groups an opportunity to compare and select child literature for gifts to individual children or to the school system.

Organizations interested in making gifts of books to the city schools or anyone interested in current children's literature is welcome to attend the Book Fair.

Book salesmen will be present to discuss the literature on hand. Refreshments will be served during the afternoon and evening. Art work by children of all grades will be displayed.

To Provide Library

After Monday, the books will be shelved as in a library. It is hoped that parents interested in a summer reading program for their children will go to the publishers' library to make reading selections.

Miss Violet McBride, principal at Oakland School, and Roger Bishton, city school psychologist and acting director of instruction, are heading the committee in charge of the Book Fair.

Working with them are Mrs. Lena Bain, Mrs. Lois Belcher, Mrs. Mary Bohyer, Miss Jeannine Dill, Miss Ruth Edwards, Miss Grace Epler, Mrs. Fleta Hankel, Mrs. Imo Hentze, Mrs. Dorothy Koy, Mrs. Mabel Matthews, Miss Kathryn Moore, Mrs. Marian Nesper, Miss Ruth Roe, Mrs. Dorcas Shaffer, Mrs. Dorothy Sult, Miss Margaret Topliff and Mrs. Katie M. Watson, all members of the faculty of the Marion schools.

Women Voters To Provide Trips To Polls

Transportation to and from the polls will be provided all day Tuesday by the League of Women Voters of Marion. This is a part of the purpose of the league "to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government."

Any resident of Marion is invited to make use of this service. Those living in the north end of the city should call 2-6373 in the morning and 2-4847 in the afternoon, while residents of the east end should call 2-2031 in the morning and 2-5603 in the afternoon. Residents of the south and west parts of town should call 2-1206 in the morning and 2-7897 in the afternoon.

There are also a few copies of voting information bulletins on both the state and local candidates available. These may be obtained by calling 2-7046 as long as the supply lasts.

BOYS SPONSORED

MT. GILEAD — Bill Rinehart, Mt. Gilead Junior, and Grove Rinehart, Chesterville Junior, will be the representatives of the T. P. Johnston Post of the American Legion at the annual Buckeye Boys State program. Bill Rinehart will be sponsored by the Mt. Gilead Kiwanis Club.

REDS BUILDING "SIEGFRIED LINE". United Nations Commander in Korea, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgeway reports that the Communists are using the period of armistice negotiations to build a crude but strong line of fortifcations across the peninsula. The U. N. commander estimates that the enemy has massed a ground force of more than three quarters of a million men, well armed and ready to strike at any time. More than 1,500 Red aircraft, mostly jet, are based at airfields in nearby Manchuria. Heavy increases in enemy artillery and armor, such as new Soviet-designed rocket launchers, have also been noted in the reports of Allied observers. Shaded line indicates tentative armistice and neutral zone.

BOWLING RESULTS

John Rife rolled a 236 and Bill Weis came through with a 613 to cop individual laurels Wednesday night in the Osgood League at the Palace Recreation Center. Yoder's 258-645 topped keglers in the Business Men's League while a 251-689 by Pritchard paced the Palace Loop. Louise Felter posted a 195 to grab single game laurels in the Ladies All-Star League at the Marion alleys while Emma Knickle and Dorothy Maskill took series honors with 499 each. Bill Lavender registered a 204-557 to pace the Mom and Pop League while Edna Riddle with a 179 and Mary Martin with a 448 led the women. Individual scores and team standings follow:

Elm Valley School On Approved List

Special to The Star

ASHLEY—Elm Valley School is continued on the list of approved high schools in the North Central Association of High Schools and Colleges, R. M. Garrison, chairman of the state committee, announced. The former Ashley and Brown Schools have been members for about 25 years each.

Continued membership is based on qualification of teachers, condition of physical plant and grounds, courses offered, library, teaching aids, active Parent-Teacher Association and a functioning board of education.

BOARD MEMBER RESIGNS

MT. GILEAD—Harry Nelson of Mt. Gilead, has resigned from the Morrow County draft board effective on May 1. It was announced today.

YELLOW CAB

Chrysler V-8 Saratoga Sedan, gasoline economy winner in Class "F". Entered and driven in the 1952 Mobilgas Economy Run by Chrysler Dealer Mel Asbury, Hollywood. It was one of three Chrysler FirePower V-8's to win in their respective classes.

180 HP CHRYSLER V-8 FIRST IN 3 CLASSES IN ECONOMY RUN!

Here is truly dramatic proof that Chrysler's great new FirePower 180 HP V-8 engine design sets an entirely new standard of efficiency among American passenger car engines!

In this annual economy test, rigidly supervised, and limited strictly to stock car entrants, cars competing are divided, by price and size, into 11 standard classes. The route, from Los Angeles to Sun Valley, covered 1,415 miles of every possible kind of driving. Average speed for all cars was just under 41 miles per hour.

And in 3 of the 11 classes, the Chrysler V-8 engine was best for gasoline mileage.

In Class "F", this magnificent new engine won first place for a Saratoga 6-passenger sedan (125½-inch wheelbase, 4010 pounds). In Class "H", it won first honors for a Saratoga model 8-passenger sedan (139½-inch wheelbase, 4510 pounds). And in the top price and size, Class "I", it was again first, in a Chrysler Crown Imperial Sedan (145½-inch wheelbase, 5360 pounds).

To travel these substantial cars at this speed under these conditions gives additional proof, we believe, that here in the FirePower V-8 engine is the finest and most efficient engine ever put into an American passenger car!

WE INVITE YOU TO DRIVE THIS ENGINE, YOURSELF...

The same engine which has just scored these remarkable accomplishments is no farther from you than your own Chrysler Dealer. He will welcome the chance to let you take the wheel and feel for yourself what Chrysler has done . . . not only in engine performance, but in power steering, power brakes, new shock absorbers, passenger comfort . . . to deserve the title: "Finest Car America Has Yet Produced!"

CHRYSLER the finest car America has yet produced

Many Programs Planned

Observance of Music Week Begins Sunday

Plans have been made in Marion for observance of National Music Week which opens Sunday. Mrs. Lewis Wills is the local chairman. She has received from Gov. Lausche a copy of his proclamation of May 4-11 as National Music Week in Ohio. Keynote of the observance nationally is "Make Your Life More Musical" through exercising of individual talent and in appreciative listening.

Special programs of music have been arranged here for churches, schools, and service clubs. There will be radio broadcasts, local musicians presenting music at events which have been scheduled for the week, and guest instrumentalists will appear. The United States Navy Band is being brought to Marion Thursday by the Junior Chamber of Commerce for a concert at the Palace Theater. The annual Community Concert Association membership drive will be held throughout the week.

At the spring flower show Sunday at the Lincoln-Mercury showroom, a string ensemble will entertain with music using a theme of "Springtime Symphony." Playing will be Miss Wilma Goebel and Miss Barbara Wolfe, violinists, John Gantt, violist, and Miss Colleen Wonten, pianist.

Musical Tea

Sunday afternoon for the residents of the Waddell Ladies' Home, the Marion Club of Life Members of the National Federation of Music Clubs will hold a musical tea. Mrs. David W. Evans is the club president. Time of the event will be 3 o'clock.

Beginning the observance of the week Sunday morning, special music will be featured at church services.

At 1 p.m. Sunday, the Marion Entertains radio program over Station WMRN, produced and directed by Mrs. Griselda Davis Dombaugh, will be dedicated to National Music Week and will feature the voices of Mrs. George Griffiths and Mrs. Charles Iams, accompanied by Miss Rosaline Manzo. Mrs. Dombaugh has presented this weekly Sunday afternoon broadcast with local musicians for the last 11 years.

The weekly broadcast of the Central District, Ohio Federation of Music Clubs, will be over Station WMRN at 3:45 p.m. Sunday featuring Miss Elizabeth Johnson, violinist, and Mrs. Harry T. Williams, accompanist.

Monday noon at the Lions Club luncheon meeting, Mrs. Raymond Pierce, Lecture-Recital Club soloist, will sing. Mrs. Wills will be her accompanist.

A dinner meeting launching the Community Concert Association's membership drive will be held at Hotel Harding Monday at 6:30 p.m. for the campaign workers.

Rotary Club members will hear the Harding High School a cappella choir directed by L. C. Jones at the luncheon meeting of the club Tuesday noon.

Noon luncheon meeting of the Lecture-Recital Club board will be held Wednesday at Hotel Harding.

Howard Klehm, young pianist and officer of the Juvenile Lecture-Recital Club, will be heard at the dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club Wednesday night at Hotel Harding.

Concerts of the United States Navy Band Thursday will be heard in the afternoon and evening at the Palace Theater. Ben Botts is the chairman for the Junior Chamber of Commerce in charge of the arrangements.

Ladies' Night party of Kiwanis Club Thursday night at Hotel Harding will have as a feature the solo presentation of Mrs. Griffiths, accompanied by Miss Rosaline Manzo.

Club Project

As one of its projects of the season, the Life Members Club of the National Federation of Music Clubs will select Friday afternoon by audition three high school students of musical ability to attend the State Philharmonic Camp in June at Camp Muskingum on Leesville Lake in Carroll County. This camping project of the Ohio Federation of Music Clubs, a part of the Ohio Fine Arts Camp activity, includes work in orchestra, chorus, art, crafts and dramatics for young people. Any high school student in Marion or the county wishing to try out for the scholarship may call Mrs. Harry Mautz by telephone at 2-7377 or Mrs. Wills at 2-9853, it was announced.

Concluding the Music Week observance, radio broadcasts Sunday, May 11, will be in keeping with the theme of Mother's Day. For the 1 p.m. Marion Entertains program over Station WMRN, Mrs. Dirothy Gail Weiser, soloist will be heard. A triple trio from the Eastside Mothersingers, directed by Mrs. Warren Wise and accompanied by Mrs. J. Paul Goebel, will sing on the Central District, Ohio Federation of Music Clubs, program on the local station at 3:45. Mrs. Wills, who has arranged the week's music activities, is radio chairman of the Central District, and is the National Music Week chairman of the Marion Lecture-Recital Club.

Concert Assoc. Plans Annual Member Drive

The Marion Community Concert Association's 1952-53 membership campaign will be launched Monday and again selection for the season's program will be from outstanding artists.

Planned to coincide with National Music Week, which opens Monday, the membership campaign will be conducted for one week only, the sponsors state.

Mrs. A. G. Birch is campaign chairman and she is being assisted by Mrs. Glen Penry as co-chairman, Mrs. Carter M. Patton, Mrs. Earl N. Hale, Mrs. Richard Mills, Mrs. Timothy Wyant, Mrs. James C. Woods and Harold Fralich. Mrs. John F. Lacey is president of the Concert Association. Teams have been organized and details will be outlined at a dinner meeting of workers to be held Monday night at Hotel Harding. Reservations are being made by team captains.

Headquarters for the campaign will again be at the Schaffner Furniture Store and serving as headquarters secretary will be Miss Mary Heininger. Mrs. LeRoy Schneider is in charge of publicity. Arrangements for the dinner are in charge of Mrs. Lewis Wills.

Steel

tered the meeting could not be established immediately.

The steelmen have charged that the President by seizing the industry had adopted tactics smacking of dictatorship.

White House officials said the President made the brief statement to the two groups and left the meeting with Secretary Sawyer at 9:10 a.m., (EST). Steelman and Stowe continued the session.

While the White House conference was on the steel companies carried to the Supreme Court a twin plea for quick final action on the question of seizure and for a court order against any government pay raise for the steelworkers while the matter is pending.

The companies obtained a district court injunction against seizure, which was followed up by a court of appeals order staying execution of the injunction while the case was presented to the highest court. The effect was to leave the government temporarily in control.

Supreme Court Meets

A management memorandum was presented to the Supreme Court just ahead of the justices' regular Saturday conference session. Both sides hoped for some sort of steel action at that meeting.

The memorandum said there is an "imperative need for final disposition by this court now" and asked for "preservation of the status quo" so that the companies "will not be irretrievably impaired in the meantime." The court of appeals refused to prohibit government action on pay.

Management lawyers in their plea to the court severely criticized government contentions that "any change in the nature" of the present situation "would probably result in a new crisis, with danger of still another interruption."

The government has maintained that if the courts do not allow a wage boost, a new strike might threaten.

"A suggestion that this court should not do equity (in other words, not be fair) because a powerful union might strike . . . has implications hardly less grave than the basic constitutional issue in Mr. Sawyer's seizure," the memorandum said.

The industry also struck at the union for insisting that the government be allowed to raise wages. The union said a wage ban would prevent it from bargaining since it would "have no employer with which it can bargain."

Dayton Rail Photo Fans To Tour City

The Dayton Model Railroad Club, Inc., is sponsoring a Rail-Photo Fan Trip from Dayton to Marion, Sunday.

Some 600 Dayton residents are expected to arrive here aboard a special Erie Railroad passenger train about noon Sunday. They are scheduled to leave Marion at 3 p.m.

There will be a tour of the Diesel Locomotive repair shops at Marion with the opportunity of taking pictures there. The group will also travel to the Harding Memorial to take pictures. There will be prizes for the best photographs of the trip.

The train bringing the group will be a special one since the Erie Railroad does not operate passenger service out of Dayton. The special passenger train will leave Dayton for Marion at 9 a.m. Sunday.

workman under a socialistic regime.

Turning to foreign policy, he criticized "these people who failed to realize the danger of Communism. They took the promise of Stalin at Yalta when they should have known that Stalin had never kept a promise. These people liked Cummunism. They called it 'peace loving democracy'."

Foreign Policy

He said his foreign policy was two-fold—to put American interests first and secure peace. He said he does not oppose helping others but he said the United States does not have the capacity to meet every aggression in the world.

To meet the threat of Communism, he called for an Air Force second to none. He said control of the air is most important. "War would be deferred by the Russian fear we would bomb its cities with A-bombs."

Referring to the Democrats, he said, "There is no enthusiasm on the other side. Nobody is enthusiastic about mink coats and deep freezes. Nobody is enthusiastic about drafting boys to fight in Korea."

He blasted "corruption in government" under the Truman administration. He said, "The administration hardly bothers to deny influence, dirty-dealing, and corruption. I don't think the American people will stand for it. If I am elected I will solve the problem the only way I know how—fire the crooks, appoint honest men and only honest men."

Concluding his talk, he said, "There is only one way to get honesty in government; there is only one way to secure liberty, cut taxes and excess spending, and have security from attack abroad and that is to go to the polls and elect a Republican President and a Republican Congress."

Stassen Talks At Upper

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY — Between 300 and 400 persons heard Harold E. Stassen, Republican candidate for the presidency, call for a complete cleanout in Washington in a talk here today. Stassen spoke at Upper Sandusky this morning on his swing through Ohio.

Stassen said a Republican victory is needed to bring the government back on its feet. He said the "Missouri gang" should be moved back to Missouri.

Observers said Stassen did not mention his own candidacy at all during his talk today. He stressed party politics.

He drives from Upper Sandusky to Granville for a speech at Denison University and then will take a train to Cleveland where he is to be the guest on a City Club shown tonight. He made appearances at Galion and Tiffin earlier today.

ORDINANCE NO. 5460

ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE ISSUANCE OF NOTES IN ANTICIPATION OF THE LEVY OF SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS AND IN ANTICIPATION OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS TO PAY THE PROPERTY OWNERS PORTION OF THE COST OF IMPROVING BENNETT STREET FROM CLINTON STREET TO BRENTWOOD DRIVE BY CONSTRUCTING AN EXTENSION OF A TRUNK LINE SANITARY SEWER.

WHEREAS, the Council of the City of Marion has heretofore, by proper legislation, declared the necessity of improving Bennett Street from Clinton Street to Brentwood Drive by constructing an extension of a trunk line sanitary sewer. AND

WHEREAS, this Council contemplates the use, of $2,500.00 for the purpose of paying the portion of the cost of said improvement which are to be paid by assessments.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the City of Marion:

Section 1. That it is hereby declared necessary to issue the bonds of the City of Marion in the principal sum of $2,500 00 for the purpose of raising money, in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for improving Bennett Street from Clinton Street to Brentwood Drive by constructing an extension of a trunk line sanitary sewer.

Section 2. That said bonds shall be dated approximately January 1, 1953, shall bear interest at the rate of 3% per annum, payable semi-annually until the principal sum is paid, and shall mature in ten substantially equal semi-annual installments after their issuance.

Section 3. That for the purpose of raising money in anticipation of the levy of special assessments and in anticipation of the issuance of bonds in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for the improvement as aforesaid, in accordance with the legislation heretofore passed by the City of Marion's Council with respect thereto, to pay the property owners' share of the cost and expense of said respective improvements, it is hereby declared necessary to issue and there shall be issued notes of said City in the amount of $2,500.00, which shall be placed to the credit of the Special Improvement Fund.

The appropriation hereinabove made for said sewer improvement is subject to the qualification that interest at the rate of 3% per annum for the period prior to the collection of the first installment so to be levied shall be included in said amount, and the amount necessary to pay said interest is hereby appropriated for the payment thereof and for no other purpose.

Section 4. That such anticipatory notes in the amount aforesaid shall be issued bearing interest at the rate of 3% per annum, payable semi-annually. Such notes shall be dated the 1st day of May, 1952, and shall mature on or before the 30th day of April, 1953 Such notes shall be executed and delivered in such number and such denominations as may be requested by the purchase of such notes.

Section 5. Such notes shall be executed by the Mayor and City Auditor and bear the seal of the corporation. They shall be payable at the office of the City Treasurer, Marion, Ohio; they shall express upon their face the purpose for which they are issued and that they are issued pursuant to this Ordinance.

Section 6. All assessments collected for the improvements aforesaid and unexpended balances remaining in the funds after the costs and expenses of said improvements have been paid, shall be applied to the payment of said notes and the interest thereon until both are fully provided for.

Section 7. Said notes shall be first offered to the Sinking Fund Trustees of the City and so many of the same as shall not be taken by said trustees shall be sold at private sale by the City Auditor, but for not less than par and accrued interest, and the proceeds from such sale, except any premium and accrued interest thereon and the amount thereof necessary for the payment of interest prior to the maturity of said notes, shall be paid into the proper fund and used for the purpose aforesaid and for no other purpose. Any premium and accrued interest and the amount necessary for the payment of interest prior to their maturity shall be transferred to the Sinking Fund to be applied in the payment of principal and interest of said notes in the manner provided by law.

Section 8. Said notes shall be the full general obligations of the City and the full faith, credit and revenue of said City are hereby pledged for the prompt payment of the same. The par value to be received from the sale of the bonds anticipated by said notes shall, to the extent necessary, be used only for the retirement of said notes at maturity, together with interest thereon, and is hereby pledged for such purpose.

Section 9. In the event that such assessments are not levied or bonds are not issued to provide a fund for the payment of said notes at maturity, a general tax shall be levied against all of the property in said City for the payment of such notes and the interest thereon.

Section 10. The City Auditor is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this Ordinance to the County Auditor.

Section 11. That this Ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

SHERIFF'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

Court of Common Pleas, Marion County, Ohio. Case No. 31406.

William Buyer, Plaintiff, vs. Fred Buyer, et al, Defendants.

In pursuance of an Order of Sale issued from said Court to me directed in the above entitled action, I will expose to sale, at public auction, at the East door of the Court House in Marion, Marion County, Ohio, on Monday the 26th day of May, 1952, at 10 o'clock A.M., the following described real estate, situate in the County of Marion and State of Ohio, and in the Township of Bowling Green to-wit:

Known as 26 36/100 acres of land off of the East end of the seventy-nine (79) acre tract of land formerly owned by Joseph Orr in Military Survey Number 258 in said township, and described as follows:

Beginning at a stone Southeast corner of a twenty-five (25) acre lot belonging to M. O. Watkin's heirs; thence with South line of J. D. Soger's land, North 80¾ degrees East 65 36/100 rods to a stake in center of road and corner to said Soger's land; thence with the center of said road and East line of said survey South seven and three-fourths (7¾) degrees East sixty-three and four-tenths (63 4/10) rods to the Northeast corner of D. F. Soger's lot, thence with his North line and center of road South eighty-one (81) degrees, West sixty-five and thirty-six one-hundredths (65 36/100) rods to a stone in center of road; thence North seven and three-fourths (7¾) degrees, West 63 4/10 rods to the place of beginning, containing 26 36/100 acres, more or less.

Also the following parcel of land coming into possession by will from his mother, Roselen Harris, duly admitted to probate on the 6th day of March, A.D. 1915, and recorded in Will Book, Volume 13, page 272 and devised absolutely to Peter Harris, to-wit: the following described real estate situated in the township of Bowling Green, County of Marion, State of Ohio, and known as being part of Survey Number 258 and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a stake in the center of a County Road and in the West line of said survey from which a beech ten (10) inches in diameter bears North eight (8) degrees, East thirty-two (32) links; thence South ten (10) degrees, East 36 6/10 poles to a stake; thence North eighty (80) degrees, East 99 5/10 poles to a stake from which a Burr oak six (6) inches in diameter bears North sixty-five (65) degrees, West twenty-two (22) links; thence North ten (10) degrees, West 35 2/10 poles to a point in the center of said County Road, South eighty-one (81) degrees, West 99 5/10 poles to the place of beginning, containing 22 32/100 acres of land, more or less, but subject to all legal highways.

Bucyrus Man Hit By Truck

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — James R. Hopley, 88, former state senator and a newspaper publisher here for many years, remained in "fairly good" condition in City Hospital here today after being struck by a truck while crossing a downtown street here yesterday.

Hopley suffered a fractured right leg. The truck was driven by Edwin Shump of Sandusky who was not held. On March 14, Hopley's sister, Harriet, 90, suffered a fractured pelvis when she was struck by a motorist while crossing a residential street. She still is confined to the hospital.

The Hopleys are the only surviving members of a family which was prominent in newspaper and Republican circles for many decades.

NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT

Estate of Osie Weaver, Deceased

Notice is hereby given that Helen Weaver has been appointed and qualified as Executrix of the estate of Osie Weaver, late of Marion County, deceased Dated at Marion, Ohio, this 16th day of April, A. D. 1952.

EDWARD J. RUZZO, Probate Judge, Marion County, Ohio.
Case No. 19284
April 19,26,May 3,1952

ORDINANCE NO. 5461

ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE ISSUANCE OF NOTES IN ANTICIPATION OF THE LEVY OF SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS AND IN ANTICIPATION OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS TO PAY THE PROPERTY OWNERS PORTION OF THE COST OF IMPROVING UHLER AVENUE FROM A POINT APPROXIMATELY 400 FEET SOUTH OF INDIANA AVENUE TO OHIO AVENUE BY CONSTRUCTING A SANITARY AND STORM WATER SEWER THEREIN.

WHEREAS, the Council of the City of Marion has heretofore by proper legislation, declared the necessity of improving Uhler Avenue from a point approximately 400 feet south of Indiana Avenue to Ohio Avenue by constructing a sanitary and storm water sewer therein. AND

WHEREAS, this Council contemplates the use of $5,200.00 for the purpose of paying the portion of the cost of said improvements which are to be paid by assessments.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the City of Marion:

Section 1. That it is hereby declared necessary to issue the bonds of the City of Marion in the principal sum of $5,200 00 for the purpose of raising money, in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for improving Uhler Avenue from a point approximately 400 feet south of Indiana Avenue to Ohio Avenue by constructing a sanitary and storm water sewer therein.

Section 2. That said bonds shall be dated approximately January 1, 1953, shall bear interest at the rate of 3% per annum, payable semi-annually until the principal sum is paid, and shall mature in ten substantially equal semi-annual installments after their issuance.

Section 3. That for the purpose of raising money in anticipation of the levy of special assessments and in anticipation of the issuance of bonds in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for the improvement as aforesaid, in accordance with the legislation heretofore passed by the City of Marion's Council with respect thereto, to pay the property owners' share of the cost and expense of said respective improvements, it is hereby declared necessary to issue and there shall be issued notes of said City in the amount of $5,200 00, which shall be placed to the credit of the Special Improvement Fund.

The appropriation hereinabove made for said sewer improvement is subject to the qualification that interest at the rate of 3% per annum for the period prior to the collection of the first installment so to be levied shall be included in said amount, and the amount necessary to pay said interest is hereby appropriated for the payment thereof and for no other purpose.

Section 4. That such anticipatory notes in the amount aforesaid shall be issued bearing interest at the rate of 3% per annum, payable semi-annually. Such notes shall be dated the 1st day of May, 1952, and shall mature on or before the 30th day of April, 1953. Such notes shall be executed and delivered in such number and such denominations as may be requested by the purchase of such notes.

Section 5. Such notes shall be executed by the Mayor and City Auditor and bear the seal of the corporation. They shall be payable at the office of the City Treasurer, Marion, Ohio; they shall express upon their face the purpose for which they are issued and that they are issued pursuant to this Ordinance.

Section 6. All assessments collected for the improvements aforesaid and unexpended balances remaining in the funds after the costs and expenses of said improvements have been paid, shall be applied to the payment of said notes and the interest thereon until both are fully provided for.

Section 7. Said notes shall be first offered to the Sinking Fund Trustees of the City and so many of the same as shall not be taken by said trustees shall be sold at private sale by the City Auditor, but for not less than par and accrued interest, and the proceeds from such sale, except any premium and accrued interest thereon and the amount thereof necessary for the payment of interest prior to the maturity of said notes, shall be paid into the proper fund and used for the purpose aforesaid and for no other purpose. Any premium and accrued interest and the amount necessary for the payment of interest prior to their maturity shall be transferred to the Sinking Fund to be applied in the payment of principal and interest of said notes in the manner provided by law.

Section 8. Said notes shall be the full general obligations of the City and the full faith, credit and revenue of said City are hereby pledged for the prompt payment of the same. The par value to be received from the sale of the bonds anticipated by said notes, shall, to the extent necessary, be used only for the retirement of said notes at maturity, together with interest thereon, and is hereby pledged for such purpose.

Section 9. In the event that such assessments are not levied or bonds are not issued to provide a fund for the payment of said notes at maturity, a general tax shall be levied against all of the property in said City for the payment of such notes and the interest thereon.

Section 10. The City Auditor is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this Ordinance to the County Auditor.

Section 11. That this Ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Wm. G. Slack
President of Council
Passed: April 14, 1952.
Approved: April 15, 1952.
Harold F. Robinson, Mayor.

H. W. BLAKESLEE

AP Science Editor Dies

H. W. Blakeslee, 72, Won Pulitzer Prize

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y. (AP)—Howard W. Blakeslee, 72, Associated Press science editor and Pulitzer Prize winner, died Friday of coronary thrombosis at his home.

A member of the Associated Press staff since 1905, Blakeslee only recently returned from viewing the atomic bomb tests in Nevada. It was his second view of atomic explosions. He covered the first tests at Bikini.

He was the author of "The Atomic Future," a book in tabloid form distributed to member newspapers by the Associated Press; and "Atomic Progress, the Hydrogen Race."

Blakeslee's newspaper career began in 1901. He was a feature writer for the Detroit Journal from 1901 - 1902, was a special sports writer for Chicago and Detroit newspapers from 1903 to 1905.

DEATHS and FUNERALS

Frank D. McKinniss

Frank D. McKinniss, 89, former Marion businessman, died at 5 a.m. today in Cincinnati where he had made his home a number of years with his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Witt.

At one time president of the old F. D. McKinniss Co., wholesale grocers, Mr. McKinniss operated his business on N. Prospect St. where the Larry Rainier Motor Sales & Service is now located. He was connected with several other business concerns in the city.

Born in 1863, in Jackson County, he was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Granville McKinniss. His father was a prominent farmer and stock raiser. After completing his public school education, he became manager of stores at Wellston and Coalton, for the Southern Ohio Coal & Iron Co., nine years. Later, he traveled six and a half years for the Dahl-Milliken Grocery Co., and for two years was employed in the company's office. Dec. 3, 1900, he came to Marion, purchased the C. C. Stoltz wholesale grocery business, and took charge Jan. 1, 1901, as president; in association with Joseph Bindley, secretary and treasurer. The firm was known as the Bindley-McKinniss Co. This association of interests continued until July, 1905, when Mr. Bindley retired, and Mr. McKinniss continued the business in his own name.

In 1890, he married Flora M. Roy of Glenroy, Jackson County, a member of a prominent southern Ohio family, who died several years following. His later marriage was to Mrs. Laura M. Gray of Marion, who preceded him in death a few years ago. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge and Knights Templar.

Surviving with his daughter is his son, Rob Roy McKinniss, who lives at Wooster, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 11 a.m. in the Schaffner-Denzer Funeral Home on E. Center St., Dr. V. E. Busler, pastor of Epworth Methodist Church, in charge. Burial will be in Marion Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after Sunday noon.

Leaves Hospital

John W. Finley of 487 E. Farming St. has been returned to his home from Jane Case Hospital in Delaware where he underwent an operation two weeks ago. His condition is reported to be "improving."

In Loving Memory

Of Otto Franklin Layman who passed away two years ago today.

PREVIEWS OF COMING ATTRACTIONS AT THE THEATERS

New Ohio Film Tells Story of Dizzy Dean

Opening in a midnight show tonight at the New Ohio Theater and playing through Wednesday will be the new comedy-romance film woven around the life of Dizzy Dean, "The Pride of St. Louis." Starred are Dan Dailey as Dizzy Dean and Joanne Dru as the girl who becomes his wife.

The picture narrates the life story of Jerome Herman Dean, the athlete who clowned his way across the national scene for seven seasons to become a baseball immortal.

Among the highlights shown on the screen as the story unfolds are the 1934 All-Star game in Washington, the 1934 World Series between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Detroit Tigers, which climaxed the year in which the famous "Me and Paul" combination amassed the total of 49 victories—30 for Dizzy and 19 for his brother, Paul. In the course of the picture, action in 12 different baseball parks is shown.

A co-feature playing with "The Pride of St. Louis" will be "Jet Job" starring Stanley Clements.

"Belles On Their Toes," a comedy in technicolor with the Gilbreth family of "Cheaper By the Dozen" fame returning to the screen, opens Thursday at the theater. Jeanne Crain, Myrna Loy, Debra Paget, Jeffrey Hunter and Edward Arnold have the principal roles, and the supporting cast is headed by Hoagy Carmichael, Barbara Bates, Robert Arthur and Verna Felton.

"Belles On Their Toes" is based on the novel by the same authors, Frank and Ernestine Gilbreth, of "Cheaper By the Dozen." The story reveals the further adventures of the clan of Gilbreths and tells what happens when the Gilbreth boys get growing pains and the girls discover romance.

Martin and Lewis In Movie at State

"At War With the Army," a comedy starring Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, and "Frontier Phantom" with Lash LaRue and "Fuzzy" St. John, will be shown Sunday and Monday at the State Theater.

Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday are "Go For Broke" and "Insurance Investigator." The former stars Van Johnson and Warner Anderson, and heading the cast in the latter are Richard Denning and Audrey Long.

Thursday and Friday, the attractions will be "They Live By Night" starring Farley Granger and Cathy O'Donnell, and "Under the Gun" with Richard Conte and Audrey Totter.

Fred MacMurray and Ann Baxter are the stars of the film, "Smoky," which will be the main attraction of the double feature billed for Saturday only. Also showing will be "Miraculous Journey" starring Rory Calhoun and Audrey Long.

IN THE ABOVE SCENE from Jean Renoir's technicolor production, "The River," which will be shown Sunday through Tuesday at the Palace Theater, Indian dancer Radha performs Bharata Natyam, a classic ritual dance of India which tells a story through gestures. The dance is in praise of the God of Love, Krishna.

"The River" To Open Sunday at Palace

"The River," a technicolor film telling of life along the banks of a famous river in India, where a visiting American brings love to three English girls, opens Sunday at the Palace Theater and will play through Tuesday. Filmed entirely in India, it has an American, English and Indian cast.

It is a story of present-day India, in which a young India-born English girl just blossoming into womanhood tells of the lives and loves and hopes of the complex mixture of peoples who live along the banks of one of the sacred rivers.

There also is an ancient legend of India interwoven into the story, told through the eyes of the same English girl, concerning the romance and marriage of Lord Krishna and the Lady Radha and including the traditional marriage dance of the gods.

Wednesday only, another in the "Curtain Time 8:15" film series will be shown. It will be "Torment," which was produced in Sweden and has English subtitles.

Thursday, the concert by the United States Navy Band will be given at the theater.

Opening Friday will be the technicolor production which has been widely acclaimed, "The Greatest Show On Earth," in which are combined romance, comedy and an intensely human behind-the-scenes circus story. Starred are Betty Hutton, Cornel Wilde, Charlton Heston, Dorothy Lamour, Gloria Graham and James Steward.

"The Greatest Show On Earth" combines the show world's two legendary entertainments—a Cecil B. DeMille motion picture and the Ringling Bros.-Barnum & Bailey Circus. It is the story of the people who make the circus a reality, giving a revealing record of the hopes, despair and dreams of the circus troupers living in a gay, death-defying world.

Western Twin Bill On At Marion Theater

"Oklahoma Annie" starring Judy Canova with John Russell, and "Oklahoma Justice" starring Johnny Mack Brown with Jimmy Ellison, will be shown Sunday and Monday at the Marion Theater.

The story in the former concerns Judy as a small town storekeeper on the western frontier, who, when things get too rough in the town, attempts to rival her two-gun grandmother who was the first woman sheriff in the West, and clean out the varmints. The latter film presents Johnny Mack Brown as a deputy United States marshal who poses as a bank robber in order to capture a gang of murderous outlaws that have been terrorizing a large area of the old Oklahoma Territory.

Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday are "High School Girl" and "Nearly Eighteen."

Thursday through Saturday the attractions will be "The Belle of New York" starring Fred Astaire, Vera-Ellen and Marjorie Main, and "Raton Pass" starring Dennis Morgan.

"The Belle of New York," a musical in technicolor, is the story of Charlie, New York playboy addicted to champagne and showgirls until he falls in love with Angela, shining light of a soul-saving mission in the Bowery. Determined to break down Angela's resistance even at the price of going to work, Charlie proceeds to pursue his hectic suit.

attractions will be "Private Snuffy Smith" and "Hillbilly Blitzkrieg."

"Lion and the Horse" On North Drive-In Bill

Another first run movie billed for showing at the North Drive-In Theater Wednesday through Saturday is the outdoor action feature, "The Lion and the Horse," photographed in color by Warnercolor. Steve Cochran is starred, with Sherry Jackson in one of the featured roles.

The story is about a cowboy and his horse who flee to the wild back country to evade the law. Man and horse battle side by side against many obstacles until the climax when Wildfire protects his master in a thrilling fight with an escaped circus lion which has been ravaging the countryside.

Showing Sunday through Tuesday will be the technicolor musical, "Tea For Two," starring Doris Day and Gordon MacRae.

Tale of Intrigue At South Drive-In

"The Racket," a tale of big-city intrigue starring Robert Mitchum, Lizabeth Scott and Robert Ryan, will be shown Sunday and Monday at the South Drive-In Theater.

Mitchum portrays a hard-boiled police captain who hates all crooks, and particularly Ryan, a top gangster whose political connections have long kept him from arrest. But Ryan's high-handed methods have antagonized other racketeers, and when he has a man killed in Mitchum's district, the captain sees his chance to square matters.

Tuesday and Wednesday the attraction will be "Bend of the River," technicolor outdoor story starring James Stewart, Julia Adams, Arthur Kennedy and Rock Hudson.

The picture relates the story of a pioneer trek along the Barlow Trail to Portland, the Portland boom town of gold rush days and the eventual slashing of a covered wagon trail along the icy slopes of Mt. Hood.

Showing Thursday through Saturday will be the technicolor adventure drama, "Last of the Buccaneers," starring Paul Henreid. It tells the story of Jean Lafitte, a soldier-sailor of fortune whose fleet swept the seven seas for loot and whose sword carved out a jungle empire for his outlaw bride.

Church Plans Homecoming

Salem Program Slated Sunday

Annual homecoming of Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church will be marked Sunday at the morning service, with three confirmation classes of a number of years ago receiving special honor. The Harding High School A Cappella choir will sing. At 12:30 p.m., a potluck fellowship dinner will be served, and a short program presented.

Recognition will be given members of the diamond, golden and silver anniversary classes. Mrs. Callie Bausinger, 91, of E. Center St., was confirmed 77 years ago. From the class of 1902, which included 23 young people, the addresses of 10 are now known. They are Fred Lusch of Upper Sandusky, Mrs. Harry Hoffman of 222 S. Grand Ave., Mrs. Dora Gunderman of Toledo, Fred Kull of near Marion, Mrs. Arthur Schmidt of Lakewood, Mrs. Olga Miller of 622 E. Church St., Edwin Leffler of 571 Delaware Ave., Mrs. Harry Kull of 318 Forest St. Miss Flora Leonhardt of San Mateo, Calif., and Phillip Bender of 224 Elm St.

Featured at the Church School hour at 9 a.m. will be a foreign student from Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware as speaker. Oladunjoye Fashola from Lagos, Nigeria, West Coast of Africa, will be a guest. Educated in the English High School at Lagos, he came to the university in December, 1950, on scholarship. He plans to return to his home country to teach after his graduation. Philosophy and economics are the subjects in which he is majoring.

Organizations of the church meeting next week include the Church School Council Tuesday night, Consistory Wednesday night, and Torch-Bearers Class Thursday night.

The committee in charge of the homecoming includes Fred Schultz, Felix Horn, Mrs. Robert Keller, Mrs. Bronson Kirby, Mrs. LeRoy Yeoman, and Ronald Arndt, cooperating with the officers and department chairmen of the Church School. The Mary Martha Class will be in charge of the dinner, with Mrs. Ruth Howard as chairman. At the fellowship dinner greetings will be presented and a period of fellowship singing will be conducted by Mrs. L. H. Ludwig. Miss Ruth Drollinger will show pictures of activities of the church.

Rosen's Batting Practice Pays Off in Home Run Spurt

Belts 7th to Lead Tribe to 6-2 Victory

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Rosen's winter batting practice is paying off for the Cleveland Indians with a spring home run spree.

Rosen flopped with the rest of the Tribe as they lost the pennant to the New York Yankees in the 1951 stretch drive. His average shrunk to .265. Back home at Miami, Fla. with a chance to think it over, Al drew up a positive plan for '52. Shortly after the first of the year he started daily workouts. With a high school boy lobbing them up, he took his cuts at Miami Beach's Flamingo Park.

AL ROSEN

When Hank Greenberg, Tribe general manager, called him to Tucson, Ariz. in mid - February for extra batting instructions, he went a running. Rosen had taken a pay cut from Greenberg. He wanted to show him things would be different this season.

"I had a terrible year," said Rosen. "But I know I can hit better than that. I'm going to get that money back and more over with a good year."

Catches Fire

Rosen hit a satisfactory .308 while the Indians jousted with the other western clubs. Once they hit the east early this week, he caught fire. Against the Philadelphia A's and Washington he collected nine hits in 18 at bats for a .500 mark, boosting his average to .368.

Tuesday night he hit three home runs at Philadelphia, Friday night he blasted his seventh homer of the year, with two on, to trample Washington, 6-2. He is tied with Boston's Walt Dropo for the American League lead with 15 runs batted in.

The Cleveland Indians finish the first half of their initial eastern swing here today, and it's still hard to say whether things are going good or bad for them.

They've won two and lost two, looking alternately futile and powerful at the plate.

Sunday night was one of their slugging nights, and they evened the series with the Nationals by rapping out 15 hits to win 6-2. Rosen and Dale Mitchell clubbed homers. Rosen's, coming in the seventh, was good for three runs and put the game on ice.

The game also was noteworthy as the first that Mike Garcia has won—or even finished—in Griffith Stadium. He fanned six, walked only one, and limited Washington to six singles and a double. Irv Noren and Gil Coan got to him for two hits apiece.

Feller Goes Today

Bob Feller, who lost a one-hitter and won an 18-hitter in his last two starts, will try for his third win against one defeat today in the deciding game of the series. Another righthander, Don Johnson, will go for the Nats. Johnson has lost his only start this season.

All the Tribe's runs came off Julio Moreno, who beat them three times last year. Moreno had a record of two won and none lost until the Tribe began pounding him for 11 hits. Every Indian in the starting lineup finished with at least one safety.

Coan's single and Noren's pop double brought Washington the game's opening run in the first inning, but Mitchell's homer to lead off the second tied it up.

Garcia's wildness cost him a run in the fifth. He nicked Eddie Yost with a pitch, and Coan singled Yost to second. Eddie went on to third on a ground out and scored on a wild pitch.

Garver Blasted

Dropo set the home run pattern in the afternoon at Fenway Park with a bases-loaded blast off Ned Garver in the Boston Red Sox's 13-6 riot against the St. Louis Browns.

Garver coasted along with a 3-1 lead until the Sox cut loose with a big nine in the sixth. A balk called by Umpire Charlie Berry and an error by Rookie Jim Rivera on Don Lenhardt's long drive upset Garver. Dropo's smash knocked him out.

Eddie Lopat, a little off the beam in his previous starts, found the groove against Detroit to throw a two-hitter for the Yanks' 4-1 victory. George Kell was the only Tiger able to solve Lopat with a single in the first and eighth.

Philadelphia outscrambled the Chicago White Sox, 13-12, in a weird night game at Shibe Park where 11 pitchers took turns dishing up base hits. Hank Majeski's single with one out and two on in the ninth finally won the game.

Omar (Turk) Lown of the Chicago Cubs made the big news in the National when he pitched eight no-hit, no-run innings against Brooklyn only to slow up in the ninth and lose, 3-1.

Billy Cox and Jackie Robinson spanked Lown's first two pitches for hits in the ninth, ruining his bid for the first Cub no-hitter in 35 years.

Rookie Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell finally broke into the win column with a four-hitter as St. Louis shaded the Phillies, 3-2. Peanuts Lowrey's single with one out in the last of the ninth scored Solly Hemus with the deciding run.

The New York Giants scored two in the 10th, one a homer by Whitey Lockman, to down Pittsburgh, 5-3, for their fourth straight win.

NEW YORK (St. Nicholas Arena) —Vinnie Martinez, 140½, Paterson, N. J., stopped Tony Pellone, 148, New York, 1.

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Jimmy Martinez, 152, Glendale, Ariz., knocked out Carlos Gonzales, 148, San Francisco, 8.

HURLS NO-HITTER

HUTCHINSON, Kas. (AP) — Jack Brown, a righthander, turned in a no-hit, no-run pitching job Friday night as Hutchinson downed Salina, 3-0. In the Class C Western Association. He also contributed a triple in Hutchinson's six-hit attack and scored one run.

Prexies Drop 4-1 Verdict In First Tourney Encounter

The Harding baseballers were eliminated from the tournament by Bexley 4-1 at Lincoln Park Friday.

Bexley came up with three runs in the top of the eighth to notch the victory. Harding pitcher Jim Edington hurled creditable ball but his wildness got him into frequent trouble.

Harding scored in the first inning on a single and two Bexley errors. The first Bexley run came as a result of a walk, single, and fielder's choice.

With two away in the first of the eighth and runners on second and third, pitcher Thacker, with two strikes on him, drove a single through short, scoring two runs. A bad cut-off allowed the second-base runner to score. Bernlohr then delivered a double scoring Thacker.

Tuesday Harding will travel to Lima Central for their fifth game of the season. George Compton, who turned in a good performance against Mansfield last Monday is the probable starting hurler for Coach Pete Howison's nine.

Rupp Denies Connection In Cage Scandal

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Adolph Rupp, basketball coach of Kentucky, told President Herbert Hopper of the Texas High School Coaches Association today that he was not connected with the basketball scandal at Kentucky.

Rupp, who had been contracted to serve as basketball instructor at the Texas coaching school at Fort Worth next August, said he would withdraw if new developments in the case scheduled for next week failed to satisfy the Texas coaches of his innocence of the accusations.

"I am just as innocent of the things I am accused of as you are," Hopper said Rupp told him by telephone.

Judge Paul S. Streit of New York, in suspending sentence against three former Kentucky basketball players for shaving points, said he had evidence that Rupp consorted with bookmakers and condoned the association of his players with them.

With this news, Hopper contacted members of the board of directors of the Texas High School Coaches Association regarding dropping Rupp from its staff of instructors.

When Rupp made his statement of innocence, Hopper said: "Under the circumstances a decision is postponed until next week."

Rams Hosts For NOL Meet

UPPER SANDUSKY — Upper Sandusky's Ram field and trackmen will be host to other schools of the Northern Ohio League in the annual NOL Track Meet to be held here Tuesday.

The Rams are defending champions of the league, having relinquished the crown only once in six years, this being to Galion in 1949.

The Marvin Moorehead coached Ramsmen have tried the strength of two of the contenders in the league this season, and whipped them both, Bellevue and Shelby. In a triangular meet with Tiffin and Bellevue, Upper Sandusky won with 54 points, while Tiffin and Bellevue had 47 and 46 respectively.

In a dual meet here the Rams won from Shelby 71 to 47.

Michigan Wins On Ten Iowa Errors

CHICAGO (AP) — The University of Michigan, helped along with a 10-error assist by Iowa, held undisputed possession of first place in Big Ten baseball standings today.

The Wolverines racked their fourth straight conference win Friday at Iowa City, drubbing the Hawkeyes 10-3 on seven hits and 10 Hawkeye miscues.

Meanwhile, Northwestern—Only other previously unbeaten Big Ten team—dropped a 5-1 decision to Wisconsin. The result left the Wildcats and the Badgers tied for the second, each with three wins and one loss.

In other games, Illinois beat Purdue 11-6, Michigan State took Minnesota 7-5 and Ohio State defeated Indiana 6-1.

A full program of doubleheaders is on tap this afternoon with Wisconsin at Northwestern, Michigan at Minnesota, Indiana at Illinois, Purdue at Ohio State and Michigan State at Iowa.

New Bloomington Drops Game 10-9

The New Bloomington High School baseball team was defeated by Monroe High School in the district tournament being played at Columbus. The score was 10-9.

New Bloomington, representing Marion County in the baseball tournament, is the county baseball champions.

The pitchers were Bill Persinger, for New Bloomington, and Bill Sullivan for Monroe. Monroe got 10 runs on five hits and two errors.

New Bloomington scraped up nine runs on 11 hits with one error.

Eight Records Fall as Prexies Race To Second Straight Relays Title

Harding High School grabbed its second Harding Night Relays title Friday night at the stadium before 800 track fans. The Prexy thinclads raced to 77 points to win over a field of six other schools.

Second-place Fostoria garnered 36 points. Findlay finished third with 32½ and Worthington came in fourth with 25. Upper Arlington finished fifth with 22½ points and Tiffin Columbian grabbed 19 for sixth-place laurels. Bexley came in last with 12 points.

Despite cool weather, five new stadium records and eight new relay marks were recorded. New stadium and relay records were set by Dave Caldwell of Findlay in the pole vault at 11-2; Jim Tucker of Fostoria in the 180 low hurdles at 20.1; Upper Arlington in the mile relay at 3:39.3; Harry Groman of Tiffin in the broad jump with a leap of 20-6½; and Jim Tate of Fostoria in the discus with a throw of 129-6.

Ashworth Flys

Harding's John Ashworth set two new records as he turned in a tremendous run in the mile to finish in 4:43.5. He completed the 880 yard run in a flat 2:01. Paul Geissler lowered the mark for the 220-year dash to a flat 22 seconds.

Coach Ken Somerlot's charges built up their point total through teamwork and balance. Several times the Prexy runners placed twice in the events to build up a cushion.

In the battle for the individual high point trophy a spirited fight developed between Geissler, Caldwell, Jim Tucker of Fostoria and Harry Groman of Tiffin. Geissler and Caldwell tied with 15 points and both will receive a trophy. Tucker garnered 15 points while Groman scored 14.

Morral defended its county title in a special 880-yard relay. The Morral runners walked away from Pleasant, Waldo and Claridon. Ron Craycraft, Huston Ackley, Merrow and Davis composed the winning team.

Edison Junior High School's relay team defeated Vernon in the junior high school 880. Running for Coach George Whitehead's crew were Albinack, Firstenberger, T. Hazen and Salter.

Hardluck Runner

Hardluck man of the meet was Harding's Jimmy Russell. After winning the shot, Russell served as anchor man for the Prexy 880-relay runners. After taking the baton, Russell pulled up lame after sprinting 40 yards. The Harding speedster completed the race but finished well back in the pack.

Captain John Ashworth and Paul Geissler were presented the Midtown Chevrolet rotating trophy and a permanent trophy. Dick Tate of Fostoria was presented the runner-up trophy. Fostoria won the 880 relay trophy and Upper Arlington took the mile relay prize. Trophies also were presented the winners from Morral and Edison. Medals and ribbons were presented the individual winners by Harding's football homecoming queens Susie Simmons, Betty Plantz, Beverly Hurley, Marjory Dearth and Barbara Orr.

The Harding team will travel to Newark Tuesday for a triangular meet against Newark and Lancaster. Next Friday they travel to Fostoria to defend their title in the Buckeye League meet against Bowling Green, Findlay, Fostoria, Fremont and Tiffin Columbian.

Brewers, Colonels Tie In Association

By The Associated Press

Milwaukee rammed into a first place American Association tie with Louisville Friday night with a 13-3 win over Indianapolis while the Colonels were losing to Kansas City, 6-5.

In other games, Columbus advanced out of the cellar by beating St. Paul, 3-2, sending the Saints to the bottom, and Toledo beat Minneapolis, 3-2.

Charlie Kress sparked Columbus' victory with an eighth inning triple that scored two runs and gave Kurt Krieger his first pitching triumph. Krieger allowed St. Paul only three hits, one less than loser Bill Samson.

Toledo evened its Association record at eighth victories and eight losses with a ninth-inning victory over the third-place Minneapolis Millers. Mike Vukmire's single scored Babe Barna with the winning run.

The Monmouth Oaks for three-year-old fillies had its first running at Monmouth Park in 1871.

Cincy Hopes Given Jolt By Eastern Clubs

Superior Hurling Costs Redlegs Three Of Last Four Games

CINCINNATI (AP) — Those eastern pitchers are playing havoc with that running start the Cincinnati Reds got in the National League pennant race.

Three times in four games with eastern clubs the Redlegs have run into airtight flinging and on two of those occasions the hurler also did the hitting damage.

Friday night it was Jim Wilson who pitched and batted the Boston Braves to a 2 to 1 victory over the Rhinelanders. Sal Maglie of the New York Giants did the same kind of double duty Tuesday night and Larry Jansen pitched a three-hitter against them Wednesday.

Wilson, winning his first game of the season, allowed seven hits but he spaced them over six innings and would have had a shutout except for a first inning error by Sibby Sisti.

No Redlegs got beyond second base after the first frame.

Ken Raffensberger, who lost his first game after three triumphs, was even stingier with hits—allowing only six—but the Braves bunched three of them, along with a walk, in the second inning for their two runs.

Wilson's single drove in the tallies after one base blows by Ed Mathews and Pete Whisenant and a walk to Jim Clarkson had filled the bases with two out.

After that no Brave advanced farther than second off Raffensberger and Reliefer Frank Smith.

The two teams will wind up their three-game series today with Gene Conley, the Braves' six foot, eight inch rookie, slated to work against Frank Hiller. Hiller has won two and lost one. Both of his victories have come in starting roles and the defeat was in a relief job on opening day.

Galion Whips Shelby, 9-1

GALION — Semi-finals in the sectional baseball tournament being played in Galion are slated for Monday afternoon when Galion High Tigers meet the Mansfield Tygers. Shelby's Whippets will play the Bucyrus Redmen the same afternoon. The winners will meet Wednesday at 4 p.m., for the championship.

The tournament opened Friday afternoon when Galion won from Willard High School Railroaders, 9-1. Bill Enders pitched for Galion. In seven innings he allowed one run and three hits while striking out 10 batters. J. C. Miller, Willard hurler, gave up nine runs on nine hits, and fanned seven in six innings.

In the second game, Mansfield beat the Ashland Hilltoppers, 1-0. Ship Burns, Mansfield pitcher, had a non-hit game. With Fisher on the mound for Ashland, the Mansfield Tygers got three hits and one run.

In the third game, Shelby defeated Mansfield Madison, 8-1. Arnold pitched for the Rams and Riley for the Whippets. Friebel hit a home-run for Shelby with the bases loaded.

Joe Rossomando, assistant baseball coach at Yale, is a graduate of St. Viator's in Bourbonnais, Ill.

Trautman Sees Higher Attendance In Minors

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—George M. Trautman, president of baseball's Minor Leagues Association, predicts the minors will draw more people to ballparks this season than last.

In a report Friday to 43 league and 322 club presidents, Trautman cited early season attendance figures to back up his prediction.

Admitting favorable weather has boosted attendance somewhat, he said "hard work, initiative, resourcefulness, courage, and good public relations" also have paid off in larger crowds.

Choir Sings At Meeting Of Lions Club

The Harding High School a cappella choir presented the program when the Marion Kiwanis Club held its weekly luncheon meeting Thursday at Hotel Harding.

In addition to numbers by the choir, which is directed by L. G. Jones, three selections were presented by a girls quartet composed of Regina Cleveland, first soprano, Susan Courtright, second soprano, Marilyn Sifritt, alto, and Birdie Borland, contralto. They sang "Sleep Kentucky Babe," "I Had a Dream" and "Tell Me Why."

The choir program included "Thee We Adore, O Savior," DuBois; "The King of Love My Shepherd Is," Shelby; a spiritual, "The Old Time Religion"; "Mountains," sung by the girls of the choir; a spiritual, "Climbin' Up the Mountain," sung by the boys of the choir; "Skip To My Lou," with Steve Lytle as the caller; and "My God and I."

Introduced as a new member of the club was Arthur Brown. Guests included Richard McAninch, a visiting Kiwanian from Bedford, O., Gail Newell of Carey, D. H. Garlock and John Haslan of Columbus, and John Lauer and Dick Myers of Marion.

Police Report One Accident, 2 Arrests

City police Friday reported one minor traffic accident and two arrests.

A car owned by Alva L. Patrick of 209 Park Blvd. was slightly damaged when struck by a hit-skip driver Thursday at 7:20 a.m. The car was parked in front of the Patrick home.

Herschel Leo Withers, 23, of Waldo was arrested at 11:42 p.m. Thursday on Delaware Ave. and charged with speeding. He posted a $35 bond for his appearance in Municipal Court today.

George William Harbolt, 25, of near LaRue posted a $35 bond for an appearance today following his arrest this morning at 3:43 a.m. on a charge of reckless operation. He was arrested on W. Center St.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

For the fraction of a second after Dicky's suggestion, I could not answer him for the sudden raging revolt within me. It seemed to me that if I heard of another possible objection to what I was trying to do in solving Marion's tragic problem, I would take a taxi to City Hospital, and apply for admission to the department for Unsettled Minds, with capitals.

But I finally found my voice, and snapped my answer in what my little mother would have called, "a most unlady-like manner."

"I don't care a continental—or a stocking—darn, whether or not Harry approves of what I'm doing," I said. "I simply can't let Lillian know what's going on, and I'm going to tell Harry so flatly. But I'd like to hang Father up by his thumbs for turning over to me the job of telling Harry about Lillan."

My husband's response, I knew, was cleverly designed to divert my anger. He leaned forward clapping his hands with flamboyant fervor.

"Bravo!" he said. "I didn't think you had it in you—that sadistic streak, I mean. But, I think you ought to consider your sire's age and weight before stringing him up by the thumbs. It might land you in the custody of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Aging Parents — I'm sure there is one among the millions of other preventive organizations."

"Look out!" I said darkly, but grinning in spite of myself. "I can be pushed just so far!"

"And you've just about reached the limit," he assented. "But, please get me straight. I wasn't proffering you any advice. I was just warning you about old Harry's possible attitude. 'Aforewarned,' you know. Finish it yourself."

"I know," I said penitently, "and I'm sorry I—"

"Blew your top?" he finished with a grin. "I'm not. You're really quite fetching when you indulge in that pastime. I enjoy looking at you."

"I don't enjoy it at all," I said. Then I pulled myself back to normalcy and spoke incisively.

"How much notice does Father have to have about getting Harry over here?" I asked.

"Nothing worth mentioning," he said. "Just a matter of telephoning, and I can do that at any moment. Do you plan to see Harry today?"

"It depends on Lillian," I said. She's determined to get up, she says, and go about her usual pursuits. She'll nerve herself to that, and it might be a good idea to get this business about Harry out of the way before she has another attack of her complex."

"I see your point," he said. "When will you know?"

"I want the support of your judgment on that," I said. "Lillian's coming into the living room pretty soon. I want you to stick around. If you think she's all right, give me a green light. Then I'll broach the subject of a shopping trip, saying I'll be leaving about two-thirty, and that you'll be staying on here until I get back. Then, after a few minutes, you go on up to your studio, ostensibly to get some work out before I go. If your telephone call to Father develops any alteration of my plan, come down, saying you've forgotten something, and I'll understand, and, later, improvise a migraine or something, so I can't go shopping."

219 Absentee Ballots Cast

A total of 219 absentee ballots were turned in at the board of elections before the deadline at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Deputy Clerk Elandes E. Miller reported.

A total of 154 absentee ballots were cast at the election board office and 65 ballots were received from Marion County soldiers by mail, Miller said.

Musical Notes
by Gene Shellhorn

Do you feel that your life is humdrum, monotonous and uninteresting? Do you go to your job day after day and come home at night to four walls and loneliness? Do you find it hard to meet people and to get into active circles around town? Well, here's an idea that might help. Music can add a lot of sparkle to your life. First of all . . . it will get you out and taking lessons. When you choose your teacher you've made your first step toward contacting other people of like interests. Through your teacher you'll undoubtedly meet many people who'll be interested in you.

Then too . . . the satisfaction . . . the complete relaxation and pleasure you'll get from music will enrich your lonely hours. You'll find an outlet almost as good as human companionship. Through the practice and playing of an instrument, you'll become a more interesting, exciting person who just naturally draws attention from others. We're here to help you to this special enjoyment.

Don't be disappointed . . . Due to the shortage of brass, be sure to see us in plenty of time regarding your instrument for the Annual Summer Band Course.

A good instrument offers more . . . in ease of learning and in the pleasure of performing. That's why you can't go wrong with a Wurlitzer . . . the aristocrat of the pianos . . . with a name traditionally outstanding. Choose your favorite model soon . . . where there're always be friendly folks to help you at SHELLHORN'S MUSIC STORE. 184 S. Main St. Phone: 2-2713.

RADIOI COURTESY OF U. S.

SAIGON, Indo-China (AP)—Thousands of Vietnamese villagers in remote, un-electrified areas soon will be listening to international and local radiocasts. The American Mutual Security Administration is distributing 400 community listening radio sets. These sets are powered by a small gasoline generator which makes it possible for them to operate without electricity.

Case No. 19385.

April 19,26,May 3,1952

NOTICE OF PUBLIC SALE BY ADMINISTRATOR

Pursuant to an order of the Probate Court of Marion County, Ohio, I will offer for sale at public auction on the 6th day of May, 1952, at 10:00 o'clock A.M. at the east door of the Court House in said County, the entire interest in the following described real estate situated in the Township of Claridon in the County of Marion in the State of Ohio, to-wit:

Known as the north half of the southeast quarter of Section 29, Township 5 South, Range 16 East, containing eighty (80) acres of land, more or less.

Also the north half of the east half of the southwest quarter of said Section 29, Township and Range aforesaid, containing forty (40) acres, more or less.

Excepting therefrom eight (8) acres off the south end of said lots of land; leaving 112 acres more or less, but subject to all legal highways.

Said premises are located on State Route No. 98, south of State Route No. 95.

Said premises were appraised at $19,600.00 and must be sold for not less than two-thirds of said appraised value; terms of sale: 10% of purchase price cash in hand on day of sale; remainder of purchase price cash on delivery of deed to the purchaser.

Chester K. Gruber, Administrator w.w.a. of the Estate of Isaac J. Gruber, deceased.

L. M. Wickersham, Auctioneer.

Frank C. Gegenheimer, Attorney for the Administrator.

April 5,12,19,26 May 3,1952.

LEGAL NOTICE

Public notice is hereby given that Ohio Associated Telephone Company has filed with The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio an application, the substance and prayer of which are to increase its rates and charges for telephone service and to revise its General and Local Exchange Tariffs and certain Toll Service Tariffs, to effect such increases in rates and charges, effective on a date or dates to be ordered by the Commission as more fully set forth in the application on file with the Commission and in the exhibits thereto attached and made a part thereof. The proposed revision will effect increases in rates and charges throughout the territory in which the company operates and will result in increased rates for the principal classes of service at the exchanges as indicated below.
